THREE BRITISH SOLDIERS IN SHANGHAI LOSE LIVES

EIGHT GIVEN JAIL TERMS AT VANCOUVER

G. W. Gilbanks Is Among Those on Whom Penalties Are Imposed

Total Ordered By Judge 28½ Years

VANCOUVER (CP)—Sentences totaling 28½ years' imprisonment were imposed today in the Vancouver Assize Court by Mr. Justice H. B. Robertson on eight men convicted at the sitting, which was concluded here Thursday night.

G. W. Gilbanks, convicted of publishing a criminal libel of Chief Constable W. W. Foster of the Vancouver police force at a public meeting last year, was sentenced to six months at hard labor in the Oakalla prison. Gilbanks was also assessed costs of the action launched on information supplied by Col. Foster.

P. W. McLeod, charged with manslaughter in the fumigation death last spring of three-year-old Joan Brewer who walked into an apartment house filled with hydrocyanic gas, was sentenced to six months' imprisonment.

F. W. Wheelhouse, found guilty of criminal negligence in a fatal automobile accident, was ordered to spend six months in jail.

LONG TERMS

James "Frisco" Fraser, charged with breaking and entering a Vancouver industrial plant and blowing the company's safe, sentenced to three years.

Merle Farris and David Walker, convicted of theft of a suitcase, were sentenced to two years each in the penitentiary.

James McKenzie and Jules Dolron, whose trial ended Thursday with a conviction for robbery with violence and carrying concealed weapons, were sentenced to 10 years' imprisonment each.

Ontario Claims Oldest Twins

HANOVER, Ont. (CP)—The oldest twins in North America are not Robert Bond of Ottawa and Richard Bond of Walla Walla, Wash., as the newspapers reported the other day. The Bonds are 86. Their oldest brother is 100 and their only living sister, Mrs. John Thoburn of Victoria, B.C., is 90.

Charles and William Wendorf of Hanover, German-born twins, are 91. And they are healthy and happy.

"By golly," William told a reporter today, "the newspapers don't know what they talk about when they say those other fellows are the oldest twins." He produced a certificate declaring the Wendorf boys were born April 16, 1846.

Close Test Seen In Australia Senate

Election P.R. Count Shows Labor Opposition May Have Small Majority

SYDNEY, Australia (CP)—Returns today showed the 16 Social Credit candidates in Australia's general election polled 70,000 votes out of a total of 3,800,000 cast throughout the Commonwealth. Only 40,000 more ballots have yet to be counted, and it appeared certain that one Social Credit candidate, G. H. A. Nichols, had been elected to the House of Representatives from Queensland.

An analysis of Queensland figures in the voting for the Senate, meanwhile, made the return of three senators supporting Prime Minister Joseph Lyons, coalition government extremely doubtful. Social Credit second preference votes under proportional representation strongly favored Labor.

New Test in War on Cancer

Expecting to give medical scientists an opportunity to study cancer from its inception, Dr. Matias Duque, 68, former director of public health in Cuba, volunteered for the role of human guinea pig. Dr. de Granda of Havana inoculated him with cancerous tissue, as pictured above, believing Dr. Duque, left, will develop the dread disease.

Anscomb Flays Cabinet Plans

Keynotes For Conservatives in Throne Speech Debate in Legislature

For the first time in four years

Conservative guns, as such, were trained on the Liberal government in the British Columbia Legislature this afternoon by Herbert Anscomb, Victoria, speaking in place of Dr. Frank Patterson, the party leader, who was ill.

Keynoting for the party as its first speaker in the throne speech debate, Mr. Anscomb charged the government with extravagance which he claimed had caused the province to go millions behind every year while enjoying record revenues, opposed the suggested Yukon annexation, called the new Trade and Industry Department unnecessary, criticized the proposal to place part of the Fraser River bridge cost in the general debt, said health insurance was a "fiddle" as he had predicted, demanded a proper reforestation policy and called upon the government for immediate financial aid to municipalities with special consideration for Victoria because it is the capital.

Mr. Anscomb said there was $3,000,000 worth of provincial property tax free in Victoria and (Turn to Page 2, Col. 7)

Decision on Federal Reference on Alberta Expected Then

OTTAWA (CP)—Early in the new year appears the most likely time for hearing by the Supreme Court of Canada of argument on the right of the Dominion Government to disallow provincial legislation.

A reference on the question was directed by the federal government Thursday following protests from Alberta at the Dominion's action in disallowing Alberta bills relating to banking and procedure in the courts.

Neither government nor Supreme Court officials today would hazard a guess as to when the reference would be heard. As it is an important constitutional question and every government in Canada is involved, however, it is expected the opposing counsel will require some time for research, study and the preparation of briefs.

In the past the court has been assembled specially to hear constitutional references and that might be the procedure in the present instance. If the governments were ready and wished an early hearing the court could probably sit any time after the latter part of December.

There has been no indication either party has proposed or agreed to a speedy hearing on the present reference.

TORONTO (CP)—Fire losses in Canada for the week ended October 27 were estimated by the Monetary Times today at $540,125 compared with $341,275 in the preceding week.

Ottawa Sells Treasury Bills

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Dunning announced today tenders had been accepted for the full amount of $25,000,000 Dominion of Canada Treasury bills, due February 1, 1938. The average discount price of the accepted bids is $99.80358 and the average yield .781 per cent.

U.S. Navy Plans Speedy Raiders

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States navy is preparing to follow the lead of other countries in developing small, lightning-fast "suicide" raiders and scouting craft.

Officials today declined to admit a disclosure by Charles Edison, assistant secretary of the navy, that two experimental boats, designed to attain speeds up to 50 miles an hour are planned.

Tudor Fire Hall On Monterey Ave.

Oak Bay Council Selects Site and Style For New Structure

The hall which will house Oak Bay's fire department when it comes into existence at the beginning of next year will be located on the east side of the point where Monterey Avenue curves into St. Ann Street, and the building will be very different in style from the usual square box-like fire hall.

This was decided by the Oak Bay Council last night in a committee meeting which followed the regular council session and continued until 11.

The site was the one recommended by the municipal works committee, under the chairmanship of Councillor William Ellis. Several other sites were considered.

The council last night interviewed Percy James, architect, and gave tentative approval to a design for the hall. The design is in semi-tudor style, with dormitories and recreation rooms for the men on the upper floor.

A special meeting will be held at the beginning of next week, probably on Monday, between the council, the architect and a representative of the B.C. Underwriters' Association, who will come from Vancouver to discuss specifications for the hall and equipment.

Tenders for the necessary equipment will probably be called immediately after the meeting.

APPLICATIONS FOR POST

The council at its committee meeting decided to call for applications for the position of fire chief. The salary was announced as $150 a month. Applications will close in two weeks' time. Several men have already submitted their names and qualifications.

The $36,000 loan by-law to finance the department, approved by the ratepayers in a referendum last Saturday, was finally passed by the council at its regular meeting earlier in the evening, but it was decided not to call for tenders for the bond issue at present.

No decision was reached on a question arising out of hydrant facilities on Foul Bay Road. Practically all the hydrants on the boundary line are owned by the City of Victoria.

Notes of the Legislature

Tomorrow: The House will not sit; debate resumes Monday.

Yesterday: The debate on the Address in reply to the Speech from the Throne was opened by Alderman Fred Crane, Liberal, Vancouver Centre, and Capt. C. R. Bull, Liberal, South Okanagan, and adjourned by Dr. Frank E. Patterson, Conservative leader, Dewdney, who speaks this afternoon.

The new members took over their official seats in the House yesterday and were lined up before Mr. Speaker as they will be for the next four years.

On the Speaker's right, of course, are the solid Liberal benches, the eight cabinet ministers occupying the four seats in front and back rows nearest the dais.

The Conservatives, eight in number, sit in the corresponding seats on the left of the House, with Dr. Frank Patterson, leader, stationed immediately opposite Premier Pattullo.

The C.C.F. bloc of seven had the next group of seats, three in the front row and four in the back. Next in order on the front row are Thomas Uphill, the Labor member, and R. W. Bruhn, Independent. The new Liberal members fill in the rest of the left side to balance the House. (Turn to Page 2, Col. 1)

Threat Traced

VITTORIO MUSSOLINI

LOS ANGELES (AP)—District Attorney Buron Fitts promised today an investigation of a threatening telegram reported to have been sent to Vittorio Mussolini, son of the Italian dictator. The matter would be laid before the grand jury next Tuesday, Fitts said.

Department Attorney Thomas McNary said young Mussolini had received the telegram after he had boarded a ship at New York for Italy after his recent Hollywood visit.

The picture of Vittorio Mussolini above was taken shortly before he left the United States on the return voyage to Italy.

MAN PLUNGES IN MAIL CHUTE

Londoner Gets Big Surprise and Shaking Up at Station

LONDON (CP)—James Thomas, 69, was recovering today from the surprise of an Alice-in-Wonderland subterranean journey he made Thursday night.

Mr. Thomas stepped off the Newmarket race train at the Liverpool Street station and walked across the platform towards a cab. He stumbled over a railing and disappeared head first into a hole.

His wife screamed and fainted. Porters rushed up. Meanwhile Mr. Thomas plunged at express speed down a 90-foot-long steel letter chute to the post office in the tube station under the street.

Ten seconds later, breathless and aghast, his bowler hat bouncing before him, he shot out to the revolving band, Charlie Chaplin fashion. Dumbfounded postal workers stopped the machinery and picked up the white-haired man, who had suffered nothing worse than a slight cut on one hand and a bad shaking up.

He was taken back to his wife. She revived at the sight of her lost husband. "Oh, Squibbs," she cried, and they embraced as hundreds cheered the return of the man "who went down there."

Jack O'Brien

Well-known Resident of Victoria Dies After Colorful Career in Northwest

A colorful and interesting career in the Pacific Northwest came to a close last night in the death at the Jubilee Hospital of John T. "Jack" O'Brien of 1919 Davie Street, who had been ill for some months. He was 68 years of age and had been here 27 years.

In the course of his life, Mr. O'Brien had been a telegrapher, hotel proprietor, newspaper publisher, sportsman, general store manager in a mining town, and baseball promoter. From his adventures through many years he gained a wealth of experience, and as a born raconteur, often delighted his friends with stories which were chapters from his own life of enterprise and initiative.

Born in Brunswick, New Jersey, the late Mr. O'Brien went in early boyhood to Virginia City, Nevada, and there lived around the corner from the Nicholas family, whose son, the late B. C. Nicholas, became editor of The Victoria Times. Mr. Nicholas and Mr. O'Brien often met during their years in Victoria to talk over the hectic days of Virginia City, as they remembered it in their boyhood.

Island Traffic Normal Again

Services Resumed After Temporary Tieup

Heavy rains up-island temporarily tied up traffic on the highway between Nanaimo and Port Alberni between midnight Wednesday and 9:15 yesterday morning, but normal traffic has since been resumed, it was announced today by H. L. Swan, provincial district engineer.

As a result of the heavy downpour the water rose rapidly and two feet of water covered the highway at the head of Cowichan Lake for a distance of 400 feet, tying up island stages and vehicular traffic until it subsided.

At Oyster River on the Island Highway, between Campbell River and Courtenay the water covered the highway to a depth of eight inches, the department reported.

The E. and N. Railway reports the up-island line undamaged by floods with trains operating on schedule.

Vancouver Island Coach Lines today reported bus traffic operating as usual.

BOY CONFESSES THEFT

VANCOUVER (CP)—City police said today they had arrested a juvenile who had been employed by J. B. Jamieson and had closed their investigation of a robbery in Jamieson's store that netted the thief $20 in cash and $20 worth of goods. Police said the boy confessed to the crime, after they had recovered the loot in a downtown check-room.

No China Peace At Any Price

Brussels Envoys Will Not Accept Japan's Terms Just Stated

PARIS (AP)—China is ready to negotiate a peace with Japan at Brussels, but not a peace "at any price," a high Chinese authority said here tonight.

The acceptance of Japanese terms as recounted Thursday by a Japanese authority would "be a betrayal of the Chinese people and the beginning of complete dismemberment of China," the China spokesman asserted.

These terms included a proposed temporary occupation by Japan of China's five northern provinces and creation of a neutral zone about Shanghai, maintained by international police.

Japan will not attend the Brussels conference on mediation of the Japanese-Chinese conflict.

NANKING (AP)—Four Chinese cabinet members, including Premier Chiang Kai-shek, declared on Friday: "China can hold out against Japan for five years if necessary."

Unperturbed by Chinese evacuation of the Chapei area of Shanghai, which they termed merely a local affair, the government leaders said the Chinese army hardly had begun to fight.

"We will show the world our real fighting qualities when our major struggle occurs along the shores of the Yellow River, which we hope to convert from China's sorrow into China's joy," Gen. Chiang said.

Governor Endorses Community Chest

Hopes Voluntary Workers Will Be Well Received

A personal endorsement from Lieutenant Governor Eric W. Hamber was received by the Community Chest this morning.

At the same time F. E. Winslow, board chairman, replied to inquiries why the Jubilee Hospital was not included in the Community Chest.

"The Jubilee Hospital Women's Auxiliary was invited to come into the Community Chest," Mr. Winslow said. "But it felt that it would like to carry on as in the past."

"Later, as chairman of the Community Chest, I attended a meeting of the Women's Auxiliary and explained the chest plan to them. However, though expressing co-operation and full appreciation, the auxiliary felt that it would retain the interest of its members to a greater extent by raising its funds in the same way."

The statement from Government House read as follows: "It is with pleasure that I endorse the principle underlying the organization and aims of the Greater Victoria Community Chest."

"I wish to convey to the officers and willing workers of the campaign my best wishes for the success of their undertaking and to express the hope that as their services are voluntarily given, (Turn to Page 2, Col. 5)

CRUSADE FOR PEACE URGED

Morrison, Labor, Suggests
British Ministers Model
Speeches on Roosevelt's

LONDON—The House of Commons will vote on a Labor amendment to the address in reply to the speech from the Throne.

Moved today by Rt. Hon. Herbert Morrison, it reads:

"We regret that Your Majesty's advisers, by a weak and vacillating policy in foreign affairs which has gravely imperilled the prospect for lasting peace and national security, have betrayed the principles of the League of Nations and seriously diminished British influence and, by the lack of any constructive fundamental proposals for raising the standard of life of the people of the world, have failed to establish economic prosperity upon a just and enduring basis, have forfeited the confidence of the House."

Mr. Morrison and Sir Samuel Hoare, Home Secretary, were the chief speakers in today's debate. Mr. Morrison charged the government was "running the risk of drifting into a first-class war against a first-class power." He urged international co-operation in the cause of peace, with an international air force.

"Let us open widely the question of raw materials—the question, if you will, of colonial territories, provided they are not to be subject to national exploitation," he continued.

ROOSEVELT MODEL

He urged the King's ministers make speeches "in the Roosevelt spirit, calling the world to a great crusade for peace, to economic social co-operation, hoping that those speeches will filter through to the peoples of the Fascist states."

Mr. Morrison charged the government with putting its class consciousness not only before the peace of the world but before the security of the British Commonwealth.

The only explanation of the government's attitude toward Premier Mussolini and Chancellor Hitler was that it feared that if the dictators were they would be succeeded by leftist governments, he said. That would not suit the Chamberlain government's class outlook.

"If," said Mr. Morrison, "there was ever a man with a crude mercantile class-conscious outlook it is the Prime Minister."

DEFENDS COURSE

Sir Samuel Hoare, Home Secretary, strongly repudiated the suggestion that the government was not as anxious for peace as Labor. So far as the government, being dominated by class consciousness, its policy was to reconcile the divergent elements and prevent division of the world into hostile camps.

Referring to Mr. Morrison's criticism of the Prime Minister, Sir Samuel said no one had a finer record for humane administration, and the opposition charges against him were groundless.

"The government is prepared to defend the rights of British citizens in any part of the world, whatever their class or avocations," the Home Secretary declared.

did. His first job was as a messenger boy for a telegraph company. It was while in this job that he learned telegraphy, a profession that was to win for him a name as one of the best telegraphers in the northwest.

He worked with the Associated Press in Tacoma, Seattle, Vancouver and Victoria.

He spent some years in Spokane, founded The Spokane Inland Tribune, and in 1911 came to Victoria with the Canadian Mineral Rubber Company, took over operation of the Westholme Hotel for three years with the late Thomas Caven, M.P.P. for Cranbrook, opened up "The Two Jacks Dope" on Government Street, and in 1920 formed the Victoria Baseball Club and won the only Pacific coast pennant ever captured by Victoria.

MISSION SET AFIRE

Meanwhile in Sungkiang, several miles to the west of Shanghai, the Southern Methodist Susan B. Wilson School for Girls was set afire and almost destroyed, the Southern Methodist Mission compound was damaged and its 80 occupants sought refuge in dugouts during bombardments by 20 Japanese planes.

Many foreigners abandoned their homes in Hungjiao to seek safety within the settlement of Shanghai centred in the suburban area.

Throughout Friday shells exploded near posts manned by the Royal Ulster Rifles, Japanese artillery, bombarding Chinese in the Hunjiao area, dropped eight shells into Jessfield Park alone. One of the shells damaged St. John's University.

Many windows in buildings and homes in the western district, especially along Yu Yuen Road, were shattered. Trolley car wires in the Jessfield sector were broken, disrupting all service.

MOTORCYCLE DESTROYED

A British policeman's motorcycle was wrecked a few seconds after he had stepped from it. Major-General A. P. D. Telfer-Smollet, in command of the British forces, went quickly to the scene. Then he called on Admiral Kiyoshi Hasegawa, Japanese naval commander in the Shanghai sector.

When Japanese shells began falling in the vicinity of Columbia Circle, section in which homes of many Britons are located, authorities made representations to the Japanese, insisting foreign interests must be protected. Large numbers of foreigners and Chinese there began quick night evacuations.

Apprehension increased for the hitherto seldom-endangered French Concession following the announcement by a Japanese army spokesman that Japanese were "considering possible action against Chinese troops in Mantao."

INCIDENT OF LAUNCHES

The two Japanese naval launches, both armed, retreated down Soochow Creek after Gen. Telfer-Smollet had refused them passage and Chinese boatmen had strung junk and sampans from shore to shore as a blockade.

British and Japanese officers argued for nearly two hours concerning jurisdiction over the creek—which partially divides the settlement from Chinese territory—and partially flows through the settlement—before the launches received orders from the headquarters to turn back.

NO MORE WAITING

They got the orders by hastily erecting a wireless mast and communicating with headquarters, presumably aboard a warship in the Whangpoo River. They still tarried, however, and finally Gen. Telfer-Smollet was forced to say:

"Come, come. Tell them to get going. We can't wait any longer."

As this was interpreted to the Japanese commanding officer, standing on a step below shore, the British officer added:

"If you are not out before dark, you know something might happen to you with all these Chinese around."

The Japanese returned to one of the launches, five pigeons were released and struck out for headquarters, and a few minutes later the incident was ended, with the launches chugging downstream and the squad of British Tommies keeping pace along the bank until they reached the Whangpoo.

The launches were armed with one three-pounder, and machine guns, ostensibly escorting a fire brigade boat upstream to fight flames within Chapel. The general belief was expressed by foreign military observers and officials, however, that the Japanese intended either to attack the "doomed battalion" within Chapel, or to test jurisdiction of the creek.

BENNETT NOW IN VANCOUVER

Conservative Leader, Visiting B.C., Speaks of Alberta Act Disallowance

VANCOUVER (CP)—Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, Dominion Conservative leader, said here today it "shouldn't take the Supreme Court of Canada very long" to decide whether the federal parliament still had the right to disallow provincial legislation.

Advised on his arrival from Regina, Sask., by train that the Dominion Government had announced it would ask the court to give an opinion on whether the power of disallowance vested in the Governor-General-in-Council by the British North America Act was still a subsisting power, Mr. Bennett said:

"Of course, it's still a subsisting power. The government is given the power in the B.N.A. Act, and the statute of Westminster states clearly enough that the B.N.A. Act can not be changed by Dominion authority. I must say the reference is a mighty effort."

IN GOOD HEALTH

Brisk and cheerful as he stepped from the train, Mr. Bennett was greeted by officials of the British Columbia Conservative Association and Conservative members of Parliament.

"How's the old war-horse?" one platform welcomer asked while shaking hands.

Mr. Bennett replied with a broad smile: "The old war-horse is getting older."

The former Prime Minister said his main object in coming to British Columbia was to "meet members of the party" at the annual meeting of the executive of the provincial association in New Westminster tomorrow Saturday evening he will address a party rally in Vancouver.

He said he did not intend to visit Victoria this trip, but would return to Kelowna next Tuesday to address a meeting of the Canadian Club there.

REICH, RUSSIA BLOCK TALKS

LONDON (AP)—Germany and Russia forced the subcommittee on Spanish nonintervention to a new and tighter deadlock today.

Germany's Joachim von Ribbentrop declared the granting of belligerent rights is an essential preliminary condition for the withdrawal of foreign volunteers from Spain.

Von Ribbentrop said Soviet Russia's insistence on withdrawal of the bulk of foreigners before such rights are granted meant the committee could not proceed further.

Ivan Maisky, Russian member of the subcommittee, delivering new Moscow instructions, declared the Soviet could not accept present Anglo-French proposals for getting the fighters out of Spain "in their entirety."

Von Ribbentrop suggested some new plan be devised by the chairman and Russia be persuaded to fall in line.

The Anglo-French plan contemplated sending commissions to Spain to arrange and supervise volunteer troop withdrawals.

TODAY'S PROGRAMME

This is one of the busiest days for the Community Chest. B and C divisions, the residential and business branches of the welfare federation, have final rallies before going canvassing on Monday.

There was a tea for C division, which is composed of about 250 women workers, at the home of the vice-chairman, Mrs. W. P. D. Pemberton, this afternoon. Mrs. R. P. Shannon and Mrs. W. S. Buttar, two prominent Vancouver welfare workers, spoke at the gathering.

At 6 this evening, the 150 workers in B division will attend a final banquet in Spencer's dining-room. Dr. H. M. Cassidy, provincial director of welfare work, will address them. Frank Paulding will also speak. R. W. Mayhew, division chairman, will preside.

At 8 there will be a meeting of the Council of Social Agencies in the Y.W.C.A. Mrs. Shannon and Mrs. Buttar will again speak. Radio addresses scheduled for this evening are:

CBT at 7: Dr. H. L. Stewart, Canadian news commentator, speaking on the Canadian Community Chest idea on a nationwide network.

CFCT at 8:30: F. E. Winslow on the greater Victoria Community Chest.

lengthy cabinet meeting that a reference would be taken to the Supreme Court on these questions:

"1. Is the power of disallowance of provincial legislation vested in the Governor-General-in-Council by Section 90 of the British North America Act, 1867, still a subsisting power?"

"2. If the answer to question 1 be in the affirmative, is the exercise of the said power of disallowance by the Governor-General-in-Council subject to any limitations or restrictions, and, if so, what are the nature and effect of such limitations or restrictions?"

In taking this action the Dominion meets the challenge of Mr. Aberhart, who took the stand in August that the central authority no longer had power to disallow provincial legislation. He then declared the Alberta measures would be held by that government as valid until the power of the federal government was decided by the courts. The acts in question were not made operative.

This reference to the Supreme Court will test a power which has been exercised by successive Dominion governments on more than 100 occasions, but which had been in disuse for over a decade until revived in August last.

The Aberhart government in pursuit of its Social Credit programme, obtained passage at a special Legislature session in August of three acts providing for the licensing and local government control of chartered banks and banks in Alberta, closing the courts to bank officials with respect to the legislation, and generally closing the courts to appeals from any rulings of the Alberta government.

This legislation was promptly disallowed when the Alberta government refused to hold it in abeyance until a test of its validity could be made in the courts. No attempt was made to enforce the three acts, although Mr. Aberhart, in communication to Prime Minister King declared his government did not recognize the federal government's power to disallow provincial legislation.

At the second special session which was prorogued October 5, three acts were passed. One increasing the tax on chartered banks, one providing for licensing of credit institutions and establishment of local directorates to direct policy of the business of dealing in credit and another, "act to ensure the publication of accurate news and information," empowering the government to force newspapers to publish what it offers as corrective or amplifying articles, and to disclose source and authorship of matter appearing in the newspapers.

Lieutenant-Governor J. C.

Bowen reserved his assent to these measures pending advice from the Governor-General of Canada.

In his statement Thursday night Premier King said the decision on the three acts would be announced following next Tuesday's cabinet meeting.

WESTMINSTER STATUTE

The order-in-council for the reference to the Supreme Court of Canada, made public Thursday evening, quotes from Section 7 of the Statute of Westminster as follows:

"Nothing in this act shall be deemed to apply to the repeal, amendment or alteration of the British North America Acts, 1867 to 1930, or any order, rule or regulation made thereunder."

ANSOMB FLAYS CABINET PLANS

It was eminently unfair that the city got no compensation by way of an adequate yearly grant.

The municipalities as a whole must have assistance, and right away, he said. Their grants had been taken away when provincial revenues were less than $20,000,000. Now with the revenues close to $30,000,000 the cities were still floundering hopelessly for help. It was too long to wait for the Rowell commission's report.

Mr. Anscumb said the only condition he thought under which B.C. should accept the Yukon would be if the federal government undertook to provide funds for development.

The government has utterly failed to implement its work and wages policy, the Victoria member said, and while the government had record revenues, unemployed men were sent to jail.

The federal unemployment commission had done nothing but provide lucrative posts for political friends, he said, an instance being a defeated Liberal federal candidate from British Columbia sitting on that commission traveling around the country drawing a living allowance of some $15 to $20 a day plus traveling expenses.

On his demand for a forestry programme, Mr. Anscumb said the government and the country had been repeatedly warned by the forestry officials that within 15 or 20 years some types of timber will be completely depleted.

but nothing definite was done to forestall it. The government, he insisted, should also do something about preserving such timbered beauty spots as Cathedral Grove at Cameron Lake and along the new West Coast Road.

The government, he said, quite plainly has not known where it was going on health insurance. And where the House had been told the only cost out of general revenue would be $50,000, an additional $100,000 had been voted, very expensive machinery had been set up, and so far as he could find the high-priced executives were still on the job twiddling their thumbs and doing nothing.

"The Conservative party," he said, "is pledged to support and will support any and every possible reduction in the cost of government where such reduction is sound and equitable. We say it is nothing short of outrageous that with revenues $8,000,000 more than they were during the depths of the depression that the government should still be going behind millions per year. There has been no semblance of a suggestion by this government at any time to economize."

LAY AWAKE IN AGONY WITH NEURITIS

Kruschen Salts Brought Lasting Relief

Ordinary headaches are bad enough, but they are as nothing compared to the awful pain of neuritis in the head, says this woman. Read how Kruschen completely banished the pain:

"I had neuritis in the head and right arm. I suffered untold agony with my head, and I dare not think what might have happened had it continued. Everybody knows what a headache is like, but it is as nothing compared with the awful pain of neuritis in the head. I spent sleepless nights toiling with pain. I began taking Kruschen Salts, and after some months of the treatment I have effected lasting relief."—(Mrs. J. L. M.)

Neuritis, like rheumatism and sciatica, frequently has its roots in intestinal stasis (delay)—the unsuspected accumulation in the system of harmful waste matter, which leads to the formation of excess uric acid. Two of the ingredients of Kruschen Salts have the power of dissolving uric acid crystals. Other ingredients of Kruschen assist nature to expel these dissolved crystals through the natural channels. LOAN SCHEMES OPERATE HERE

Chamber Directors Told $163,000 Used Here Under Federal Plans

Loans totaling $163,000 have been made available to Victorians under the Federal Housing Act and the Home Improvement plan, according to a report submitted to the Chamber of Commerce directors yesterday by James Parfitt, chairman of the building group.

Both plans had been a complete success in the city, and much credit for this was due G.

H. Harman, manager of the Bank of Montreal, who had been unceasing in his efforts to assist persons in securing the loans, Mr. Parfitt said.

There had been 62 loans put through under the Housing Act, aggregating $85,000 and $78,000 had been made available for home improvement.

The result of this had been considerable stimulation of building in Victoria, Mr. Parfitt said. Mr. Harman said his work in arranging the loans had been as a member of the administering committee for the two schemes, and any successful operation of the plans reflected credit on the committee as a whole.

Should Receive Prairie People

Capt. C. R. Bull of Okanagan Tells House Farmers Going Mad

British Columbia had need of a larger population and should absorb "cheerfully and adequately those unfortunate people who come to us from the drought-stricken areas of the prairie provinces," Capt. C. R. Bull, Liberal, South Okanagan, said in the Legislature yesterday when seconding the Address in reply to the Speech from the Throne. It was his maiden speech in the House.

The financing of the settlement of prairie people in this province, Capt. Bull said, was a Dominion matter, but the province must press continuously its support.

Dealing with the Okanagan, Capt. Bull said "the tree fruit industry is its very heart and soul. This industry is far the most reliable in the whole province as a distributor of purchasing power and as such, deserves great appreciation and consideration. Our industry has not depleted the natural resources of the country but, on the contrary, has continually built them up. In 10 years our production of tree fruits has increased by 50 per cent, and that, in spite of the fact that in 1931, 1932 and 1933 the average price received was only about 2 cents a box over the cash outlay."

Capt. Bull said he believed the farmers were the anchor, the bulwark, and the backbone of the province. He said the farmers in his part of the province had a very difficult time to keep going, noting a great many people went to the Okanagan after the war, with a fair amount of money and the will to work. Of their number a great many were forced to clear out, after losing all they had. Those who made it stick, he said, were those who had more outside resources on which to draw, made an income looking after other properties, or practiced extreme thrift, which, he said, meant a reduced standard of living, far below that which one would expect an employed workman to accept in a city.

Bishop Consecrated For Pembroke, Ont.

EDMONTON (CP)—Rt. Rev. Charles Leo Nelligan was consecrated Roman Catholic Bishop of Pembroke Diocese in Ontario in a colorful but solemn and impressive ceremony at St. Joseph's Cathedral here Thursday.

Dignitaries of the church, garbed in brilliant vestments, representatives of the crown, the judiciary and the federal, provincial and civic governments, and a delegation of clergy from Pembroke Diocese attended the ceremony.

More than 100 members of religious sisterhoods and 1,000 laymen found seats in the cathedral, richly decorated with the papal white and gold banners, and regal red draperies.

Archbishop H. J. O'Leary of Edmonton vested his former vicar-general with the bishop's symbols of authority.

VOTERS' LIST BEING RUSHED

Courts of Revision Next Week; Advance Poll Will Be Held

Electoral officers today rushed ahead with the preparations of the voters' list and arrangements for the federal by-election poll on November 29.

As enumerators are nearing the end of their work of tabulating individual voters, John L. Clay, registrar, announced the Courts of Revision will sit on November 4, 5 and 6, where persons not already registered may put their names on the list. To facilitate the work the courts will sit in three divisions. For that part of the district west of Cook Street the court will be at 802 Bank of Toronto Building; for the section south of Fort Street and east of Cook, at 1027 Cook Street, and for the section north of Fort Street and east of Cook, 1106 Fort Street.

Sydney Child, returning officer, announced there would be an advance poll, but no absentee voting. The advance poll, on the three week days (Thursday, Friday and Saturday), preceding the general voting day, is for the benefit of commercial travelers, or persons employed in transportation services who cannot be in the city polling day and for naval, military and air force men, or R.C.M.P. who will be away on duty.

Brighton Place, the section of Brighton Avenue between Oliver and St. Patrick Street where it widens to a width of 160 feet, is a roadway and not a park, the Oak Bay Council ruled last night in answer to a query from a resident who was uncertain about his rights to drive a car across the area.

Fifteen Years of Fascism

FASCIST ITALY HAD A REAL FIELD day yesterday and celebrated the 15th anniversary of the famous March on Rome. One hundred "black-shirts" re-enacted the coup which laid the foundation for Mussolini's complete dictatorship and ended representative and responsive government throughout the land.

On that day 15 years ago the Chancellories of Europe got the shock of their lives. Seasoned diplomats of the old school had practically settled down in a more or less complacent resignation to the Russian experiment—then in the raw, but nearing its sixth birthday. France's costly excursion into the Ruhr to force Germany's hand on the reparations issue had just fizzled out.

Soon after these disquieting post-war events had been accepted as inevitable, however, the Locarno (magic word) meetings began. Sanity in the dealings between nation and nation seemed destined to prevail. It did for a time. The shadow of Hitler then fell across central Europe. His rise to power was the signal for the tearing up of treaties and the beginning of a general indication by several nations to ignore some of the most solemn and forward-looking covenants ever entered into by international agreement.

One by one, over a period of years, the dictators and the ultra-reactionary governments became fully convinced that something akin to a divine command had been issued to them to fight, with such weapons as they might choose, what they considered constituted the world's most sinister menace—Communism.

Japan began carving up China, soon hung Manchuria on her belt and settled down to a plan of infiltration, hoping to round it off by the present undeclared "war of defence" against China and Communism—without, by the way, disturbing the latter's Russian home by any bayonet work or bomb-dropping.

Hitler occupied the demilitarized Rhineland while Mussolini had begun to try out all his latest instruments of murder on the "bows and arrows" of the Ethiopians, flogging their country and making a present of it to King Victor Emmanuel.

Then Spain's Fascist leader, General Franco, discovered for himself and his followers a job of work in subduing such parlor or rough-house Communists as might be found among the supporters of the popularly-elected government forces in that country—and the fight goes on. Italy, gorged with Ethiopia, Germany again happy in the Rhineland, loaned a helping hand to General Franco.

So we have two European nations waging war against Communism in a foreign country and one Oriental nation doing likewise. But, in spite of all this, Mussolini, with chin and chest appropriately extended, said in Rome yesterday that the watchword with which Italy wished to inaugurate the 16th year of Fascism could be expressed by "peace."

To which we say "fiddlesticks," and once again drop the reminder that the country which is supposed to be the villain, the irrepressible rascal who is charged as the cause of all this costly job of saving nations from the effects of its practiced doctrines, is left severely alone.

Yet, after all, Fascism and Communism are blood brothers, no matter how the Fascist and Nazi leaders may fulminate in Rome and Berlin. Their form of government came in by force, is being sustained by force, and unless considerably modified in form will, sooner or later, either go out by force or be forced to accept radical changes by sheer weight of public opinion.

An Example for Us?

SOME CANADIAN NEWSPAPERS—mostly those opposed to the King government at Ottawa—have been pointing with envy to Australia's financial condition, her balanced budget, and the "encouraging factor" revealed "in its determination to share in the task of imperial defence." All this is interpreted as proof of the confidence British investors have in the Commonwealth and its future. We are told "the verdict at the polls will strengthen this confidence . . . that Australia is at present governed by policies that will do much to promote her prosperity."

In this hope Australia's sister Dominions will share; but there are other factors which enter into any attempt to impart political bias to the conduct of Australia's affairs and such significance as it may present. It is on the record, of course, that budget reform in Australia was brought about by governmental threats to repudiate the country's external debts unless there be a substantial reduction of interest rates. The threats were successful. Imports were restricted, immigration restrictions tightened, and, for the time being, internal conditions have showed improvement. Whether such policies will be beneficial to Australia in the long run remains to be seen. It is to be noted, however, that Canadian newspapers which approve Australia's plan of budget balancing are shocked when any similar plan is suggested in Canada, especially, of course, if the proposal emanates from a Liberal government.

Should Be Easy Here

A DISPATCH FROM VERNON THE other day told in nine lines a story worth noting by Victorians at this time. It was to the effect that a year ago a by-law asking for $25,000 to commence an artificial ice and new sports arena in that city was unanimously endorsed and that this week the spending of another $25,000 to complete the structure had been similarly approved—a total expenditure of $50,000 on a good cause which also should prove a profitable undertaking. The population of Vernon is considerably less than one-twelfth of that of Greater Victoria.

A year or so ago the people of Nelson got it into their heads that they wanted a civic auditorium that could be used for numerous purposes, including almost every sort of meeting, ice hockey, basketball, curling, and so on. The proposal was placed before the taxpayers and a by-law to use some $60,000 was endorsed by an overwhelming majority. Their general utility structure, of course, has been in operation for some time and has been a boon to the whole community. Kamloops businessmen a few years ago built themselves a canning plant, marketing thousands of tons of canned tomatoes each year, and helped commercial development in general. They did not, by the way, go hat in hand to the government.

The combined population of the three interior cities to which we have referred is less than a quarter that of Greater Victoria. We mention these achievements of other cities because they show what can be done if the will and the initiative are forthcoming. In comparison, the amount asked for in Greater Victoria to fill the Community Chest is a very modest sum—an objective which should not only be easily and quickly reached but passed before next week's campaign has been brought to a close.

A Year On Our Railways

GROSS REVENUES OF ALL CANADIAN railways for 1936 amounted to $334,768,557, as compared with $310,107,155 for 1935, an increase of $24,661,402, or 8 per cent. This was the third year to show an increase since 1933 when the low point was reached. Operating expenses also increased from $263,942,899 in 1935 to $283,345,968, or by $19,403,069, or 7.4 per cent. This increased net operating revenues from $46,164,256 to $51,422,588. Railway taxes were raised from $8,843,006 to $9,572,616. Interest on funded and unfunded debt was reduced from $116,789,749 to $112,204,370. This includes interest on government advances to the Canadian National Railways. The figures are all gathered from Dominion Bureau of Statistics reports.

The mileage of road operated at the end of the year was reduced from 42,916.45 to 42,551.99 and the average operated each month was reduced from 42,775.51 to 42,707.56. Two subsidiary lines of the Great Northern Railway ceased operation in Canada and the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways accounted for practically all the remainder of the net reductions. There were 20.78 miles of new road opened during the year, making the gross miles abandoned 385 miles.

The number of employees increased from 127,526 for 1935 to 132,781, or by 4.1 per cent, and the total payroll was increased from $172,956,217 to $182,638,364, or by $9,682,157, or 5.6 per cent.

The number of passengers killed in train accidents was reduced from 10 in 1935 to six, but the number injured was increased from 432 to 657. During the year 83 employees were killed, including 47 trainmen and 22 trackmen, and 1,293 were injured. The number of trainmen killed increased by 114 per cent and the number of trackmen killed by 145 per cent. Other persons killed in train accidents amounted to 273, including 119 at railway crossings and 104 at other places on the track. The highway crossing accidents included 105 motorists killed and 266 injured.

Notes

Heading: "War Spirit Fed In Italian Children." They might have enjoyed a hearty meal more.

The government in some areas of United States will how supply hunters with big game. A real service would be supplying fish to end all those tales about the ones "that got away."

WHAT OF THE FUTURE?

From St. Louis Post-Dispatch

We pretend to no occult knowledge of the causes behind the stock market break, but surely it is too facile an explanation to say that it was caused by restrictions imposed on market operations by the Securities and Exchange Commission. If the SEC rules are to blame, it would seem that their hampering effect would have been felt long before this. To the contrary, the market rose to high levels this year and it was not till mid-August that the decline began.

Whatever part the governmental regulation of trading may have played in the wave of selling, it is evident that the prime causes run much deeper. For one thing—and this is what some competent economists have been saying for months—prices of many stocks have been too high in relation to earnings, and a break at some time was inevitable. For another, there has been an undoubted recession in business. What this portends is debatable, but that it exists is generally recognized. When large-scale selling of shares began, from whatever cause or causes, fear psychology got in its work, and with the continued drop in values came the distress selling that accompanies great market slumps.

To what extent the market break will affect business conditions remains to be seen. The role of prophet, in these perplexing times, is not lightly to be assumed.

Across the Bay

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

NEW TALENT

THE NEW Legislature began on Thursday to reveal the quality and talent added to it by a wise electorate last June. The first two samples were cautious, unpretentious, but good. The House heard them, as it always does, with that extraordinary geniality which it always displays to young members in its opening stages, but which tends to dry up as the session progresses. And the government, for its part, sat back and listened to information which it has had for months or years as attentively and politely as if it were beholding a fiery new revelation from on high.

Mr. Crone of Vancouver, who led off the debate on the Speech from the Throne, spoke well. He will be a sound and useful member of this House. He speaks quietly, simply, like a business man among colleagues, without flourish and without rancor. His pace is pedestrian, but he covers a good deal of ground, and evidently is a man with ideas of his own, which he will express whether the government relishes them or not.

As the first speaker of the session, Mr. Crone was supposed to indicate the government programme for the session and praise the government's work. The former job he did not attempt to do very exhaustively. The latter he did well, perhaps a little too well.

For every minister, one by one in long and glittering parade, Mr. Crone had some special commendation, some special reason for thanks and praise. It was competently performed, and part of the first speaker's job, but tended to become a trifle saccharine. The cabinet listened attentively at first and looked as if it were no more than it expected or deserved, but toward the end it began to look a trifle self-conscious, seemed to think that perhaps it wasn't quite as sublime as Mr. Crone imagined.

The C.C.F. appeared just a little cynical. Mr. Maitland recommended the famous diary, which was rudely interrupted in the fall of 1933 and which contains already many gems—as, for example, when he recorded of a notable colleague that "there were long pauses between his sentences, nothing between his pauses." The House as a whole thought Mr. Crone had made a good start.

OKANAGAN MAN

CAPT. BULL of South Okanagan, who loved, undoubtedly will prove one of the most popular men in this assembly. He has the familiar look of the Okanagan about him, the outdoor, tanned, fruit-picking, tea-at-5-o'clock look that is part of the agreeable little civilization of the great orchard valley.

He speaks modestly, quietly and, even in a maiden speech, apparently without stage fright. Obviously, he comes to the House with a high sense of opportunity which, alas, may suffer disillusionment in the tough game of politics, for he will find that the House doesn't retain its first-day geniality and innocence very long. But Capt. Bull should make an excellent member and distinctive, refreshing personality in these faded premises.

His talk was mostly of his Okanagan, of the fruit men's problems of marketing—"anyone who has designs on our marketing is wasting his time because without it we're sunk"—and of the value of the fruit industry to British Columbia, the greatest purchasing industry in the province.

But he boldly tackled larger issues, rushing in where the tired angels of politics often fear to tread. He is a young man and evidently an idealist, with a fine vision of Canada and of British Columbia, which he managed to convey rather strikingly in soldierly fashion, all the better for its simplicity and lack of ornament. What Capt. Bull seems to want, no less, is a whole new attitude on the part of government and on the part of the public to the great, overshadowing questions of the time.

POPULATION

INTO the great valleys of British Columbia, which are evidently a real passion with him, Capt. Bull would pour people. He would not squabble about the poor immigrants from the drought areas of the prairies. He would welcome them, make them good British Columbians, fill up a province which has twice the area of Japan and 100th part of the population.

Lifting the House for a moment out of the ruck of small affairs, which largely form our business here, he asked it to take a look at British Columbia, at its vastness and richness and the fine freedom of his life, and he asked it to consider what the crowded, have-not nations think of us and our failure to use our land.

He asked it, also, to face the real economic condition of British Columbia, the destitution amid plenty, the insecurity of many of its people, the haunting fear of poverty, the inequality of wealth. Some "economic equalizer" must be found, he said, and wise governments will pave the way to reform by educating the people in advance to the changes they must expect, the sacrifices they must make, both here and, perhaps, in supporting Britain in war.

This wound up an easy day within an hour, and everybody felt very neighborly and on a high plane. But the parliamentary manoeuvres of the session already are under way. The C.C.F. has started to steal a march on the Conservatives by an opening deluge of motions and questions. Clearly one of the most interesting fights of the session is going to be within the ranks to the left of Mr. Speaker, to decide who are to form the real opposition, the Conservatives or the Socialists. The Socialists think they have beaten the Conservatives at the starting gun, but the session is young.

Biological Purge
Seen Necessary for Mankind's Salvation

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.

A SIT-DOWN reproductive strike of the busy breeders among the morons, criminals, and social ineffectuals of the population, is advocated by Prof. Earnest A. Hooton, Harvard anthropologist, in a new book, "Apes, Men and Morons" (Putnam) to be published this week.

"A biological purge is the essential prerequisite for a social and a spiritual salvation," Dr. Hooton writes. "We must stop trying to cure malignant biological growths with patent sociological nostrums. The emergency demands a surgical operation."

Advising human beings to take a realistic look at themselves, Prof. Hooton contends that man is not a very efficient member of the animal kingdom.

Trying to imagine how an ape would regard a man, Prof. Hooton observes that apes have more powerful voices than any singer, and "an anthropoid ape would regard a Metropolitan opera star as next door to dumb." Even our vaunted achievement of speech might be rated more destructive than beneficial, since it creates more barriers than bridges for understanding. As for gadgets, man is supremely good at them, but his judgment in using them is often bad.

Prof. Hooton doubts the theory that man's tree-dwelling ape-like ancestor came down from trees and stood on his hind legs because changing climate caused the trees to shrivel away. Isn't it more likely, asks Prof. Hooton, that some intrepid adventurer got fed up with a diet of fruits and berries and took a chance on the ground where he could quest for ampler supplies of vitamins A, B, C, D and E?

OUR ANCESTORS NOT PREPROCESSING

Within the past million years, actual bones of man are available, in odds and ends, to show what man was like. Prof. Hooton finds that early Stone Age individuals "doubtless worthy persons but certainly not preprocessing."

Of England's oldest known human remains, believed to be those of a woman, he says, she "may have been a female with a brain as capacious as Lady Astor or of any other female who has played a dominant part in the affairs of the British Empire." But he adds that Dame Eoanthropus "seems to have had a face like a chimpanzee—no chin at all, and projecting tusk-like canine teeth! Hers was no countenance for which a king would renounce his throne."

The anthropologist's serious purpose is to call attention to man's indifference to his biological fate and future. Looking the whole human species over, he thinks it needs improvement, and it can improve itself.

"Now that we have concluded our little 60,000,000-year saunter," he writes, "in which we started out with a tree shrew and ended up with Mrs. Simpson, or what have you, we are confronted with the more important task of inquiring how we have managed to get so far and where we go from here."

He advocates specifically that young people be taught the importance of a code of biological ethics.

"The only valid reason for trying to improve the biological status of man," Prof. Hooton declares, "is that he be made a better animal—more honest, more unselfish, more decent and considerate in his human relations."

DOG POISONER HUNTED

CALGARY (CP) — A dog poisoner, who places the lethal dose in chocolate-coated candy, was sought by police here today. In a west end district, 10 dogs, some mongrels but highly prized by their owners, and others show animals, have been poisoned. Traces of poisoned chocolates which were found were turned over to the police investigators.

Oak Bay Seeks Cheaper Water

Council, as Agreement Nears End, Claims Lower Price Justified

Cheaper water will be sought by Oak Bay from the City of Victoria, it was indicated at a meeting of the municipal council last night, when instructions were given for the opening of negotiations for a new five-year agreement with the city.

The municipality's present agreement, operative since the beginning of 1933, will expire December 31.

Under present terms the city supplies water to the municipality at the rate of 7½ cents per 1,000 gallons.

The price was reduced in 1933 by 3 of one cent per 1,000 gallons from the figure of 7.8 cents set by the provincial water board in 1926. The reduction was granted because of the increased consumption in the municipality, and the resultant larger profit to the city.

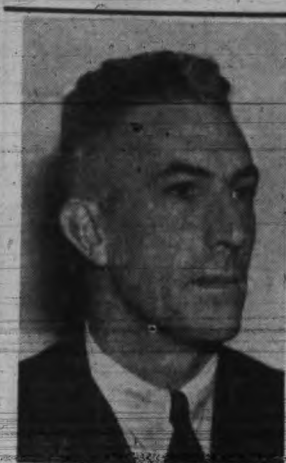

Councillors contend that further increases in the use of water since 1933 warrant another price cut. Figures submitted to the council last night by the municipal water department show Oak Bay consumption doubled between 1918 and 1928, and that the present figure is almost three times the 1918 level and considerably ahead of 1932 and 1933.

Consumption reached a peak in 1935 with 217,281,286 gallons, fell slightly in 1936 to 207,514,259, and is estimated for this year at a new record of nearly 217,400,000 gallons. The figure for 1932, on the basis of which the expiring agreement was made, was 177,625,434 gallons.

The municipality last year paid the city $15,491 for water which was retailed for approximately $40,000 to Oak Bay residents.

New Faces In The House

A Vancouver Island Stump-rancher Makes His Debut in Legislature

COLIN CAMERON C.C.F. member in the Provincial Legislature for Comox, was born in Exeter, Devonshire, England, in 1897, and came to Canada with his parents in 1907. They settled in North Vancouver, where the new member's father was appointed district engineer for the municipality. Mr. Cameron went overseas with the Canadian Engineers, and when he returned went stump-ranching on Vancouver Island. In recent years he has made his home in Port Alberni, but after the first of the year expects to take up residence in Comox. He is married, has one son and three daughters. While the House is in session he and his family will reside on Battery Street, not far from the Parliament Buildings.

The spread was accounted for by the cost of upkeep of the municipal water system, normal wastage and a small profit, municipal officials explained.

WILL EXHUME 270 CHINESE

First Mass Removal of Bodies From Cemetery Permitted By Oak Bay

By an ironical twist of circumstances it is at a time when China is at war that the first mass exhumation of the bodies of Chinese for their return to their native land is to be made in the Victoria area.

The Oak Bay Council last night gave its authorization to a new body, the Canada Oversea Chinese Amalgamated Exhumation Board, for the removal of the bones of 270 Chinese who died in Greater Victoria during past years and were buried in the cemetery of their race between Gonzales and Shoal Bays.

Previously the remains of Chinese have been shipped to their native land for reinterment only three or four at a time.

The council gave its permission on the condition that the work should be supervised by the municipal health authorities. Councillors pointed out that the bodies had all been buried for at least seven years, and that there was no danger of infection from them.

Freak House Is Sewer Problem

A house which sits on the Oak Bay-Victoria boundary with most of its structure inside the city but its only road connection lying through the municipality presented the Oak Bay Council last night with a knotty problem when it came to consider just who was responsible for the house's sewer requirements.

The house is situated on Denison Road, on the top of the rocky Gonzales Hill. Denison Road starts in Oak Bay, curves into the city, and emerges again into Oak Bay. The greater part of the house, and therefore the lion's share of the taxes, are Victoria's, but the only feasible sewer outlet is apparently into Oak Bay.

The council decided to treat the sewer connection as a normal lateral, with the owner paying the cost of installation and the municipality granting concessions in rates.

(From The Times Files) Joe Bayley is still lightweight champion of Canada following his great victory over Dick Hyland at Calgary last night. Bayley finished very strong.

Government neglect to have a provincial police officer stationed at Shawnigan Lake during the winter months is stirring the inhabitants, and those who own summer cottages at the lake shore to indignation because of frequent molestation of property and robberies.

Yesterday in the laying of the foundation stone of the new First Congregational Church on the corner of Quadra and Mason Streets, another step was taken in the provision of a fine institutional building for this city.

A. T. Goward, general manager of the B.C.E. Railway, stated this morning that arrangements were being made for an immediate start on the construction of the Uplands car line.

Military Honors On November 11

Details of Parade By Navy, Permanent Force and Militia Announced

The memory of those who died in the Great War will be honored with full military ceremonial on the morning of Armistice Day, November 11, both at the war memorial on Parliament Square and in the Memorial Park, Esquimalt.

Veterans' organizations and units of the Royal Canadian Navy, the Permanent Force and the Nonpermanent Active Militia will take part in the Victoria Remembrance Day parade. A detachment of the Permanent Force will attend the Esquimalt ceremony.

The naval and military units will parade on Wharf Street at 10.20 a.m., and from there will march to their places on Belleville Street in front of the Parliament Buildings at 10.30.

Sentries to stand with arms reversed at the base of the war memorial will be provided by the Canadian Navy, the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry (Permanent Force), the Fifth (B.C.) Coast Brigade, Canadian Artillery, and the Canadian Scottish Regiment.

Time guns of the Fifth Heavy Battery, R.C.A., will mark the beginning and end of the two minutes' silence from 11 to 11.02. Trumpeters of the Fifth Brigade will sound the Last Post and the Reveille after the silence.

Following the ceremony at the war memorial the troops will march past a saluting base on the Causeway opposite the Empress Hotel, and will then disperse to their quarters.

The salute will be taken by Hon. Eric W. Hamber, the Lieutenant-Governor.

Reforestation Is Discussed

Reforestation measures for British Columbia were discussed at length yesterday when representatives of lumbermen of the province met Hon. A. Welles Gray, Minister of Lands, and E. C. Manning, Chief Forester, at a conference in the Parliament Buildings.

No statement on the conference was given out, as matters were not settled and other meetings may be necessary shortly.

On the delegation were Ross Pendleton, chairman of the loggers' committee; Bruce Farris of Great Central Lake, Phil Wilson, F. Brown and R. V. Stewart, secretary of the Loggers' Association of British Columbia.

Fernand Gallat Speaks at Opening Meeting of Alliance Francaise Season

L'Alliance Francaise received a tribute Wednesday for its work in spreading appreciation of French language and culture and in promoting friendship between Canada and France from Fernand Gallat, newly-appointed French Consul-General at Vancouver.

M. Gallat came to Victoria with Mme Gallat to attend the opening of the British Columbia Legislature, and in the afternoon was guest of honor at the opening meeting of the Alliance's season, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baker, Cadboro Bay.

The aims of the society and its plans for the coming year were explained briefly by Mme H. Archibald, the president.

Mrs. Harold Nation, president of the France-Canada Society in Vancouver and Major F. V. Longstaff of the local branch of the society brought messages of greeting to the meeting.

Miss Dorothy Kennedy, secretary of L'Alliance, is back in Victoria from a European tour.

Tea was served during the afternoon from a table beautifully decorated with flowers.

Gordon Endorsed By Oak Bay C.C.F.

The Oak Bay C.C.F. Club last night unanimously gave its nomination for the federal by-election to Professor J. King Gordon, who left Kingston tonight for Victoria, where he will arrive Monday to take part in the campaign.

It is forecast that other C.C.F. clubs in the city will follow the group in Oak Bay and that Mr. Gordon will receive the unanimous nomination of all members in the city. In all seven C.C.F. clubs will vote.

Nigel Morgan was named president of the Oak Bay group, with Mrs. E. A. Matheson secretary. Miss D. Corbett and Mr. Morgan were named delegates to the district council. Other officers will be chosen at the next meeting, to be held at 2224 Hampshire Terrace.

back to the same stores and made the same purchases, again tendering $5 bills. Between the three of them they received only one dime and one nickel in United States money.

And there are hardly any United States names on hotel registers these days.

HOW MONEY GOES HOME

The way in which the United States money circulating in Victoria gets repatriated was explained this morning by a banker. The storekeepers bring it in when they make their deposits, daily or once a week. The United States silver is separated from the Canadian. A certain amount of it is disposed of locally by the banks to prospective travelers south of the line. The rest is shipped back to the United States by express, and this costs the banks between $2.50 and $4 per $100 for express, insurance and customs charges.

Canadian currency collected in the United States comes home in the same manner.

A small jointed animal, related to the fresh water shrimp, is parasitic on the skin of whales and is known as the whale louse.

Expect Big Crowd At Ball

Police Prepare To Receive Hundreds Of Victorians Next Friday

Advance ticket sales for the Victoria City Police annual ball next Friday indicate the event will again enjoy the patronage of many as the leading item on the winter social calendar, according to reports from members of the dance committee.

The ball will be held November 3 in the Empress Hotel, and final plans have been completed by the committee to insure the success of the evening.

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Hamber, Premier and Mrs. Pattullo, and Mayor and Mrs. McGavin, with provincial and civic dignitaries will lend their patronage to the affair.

Dancing will continue from 9 to 3, and the first supper sitting will be at 11.

Zala's specially augmented orchestra will provide the music of all the latest dance hits. Members of the municipal and provincial police forces, with those of Seattle and Vancouver, will be guests for the occasion.

Royal Oak

St. Michael's A.Y.P.A. enjoyed a jolly Hallowe'en party in the parish hall Wednesday evening. Miss Edith Hodgson and Rita Huntley were in charge of the programme of games and Miss Lois Hamblett and Canon S. J. Wickens acted as accompanists. Winners of the contests were Barbara Hoole, Jim Amos, Nan Sharpe, Wilfrid Amos and Helen Phillips. The next meeting will be held in the parish hall Tuesday, November 9.

St. Michael's Junior Women's Auxiliary held their meeting Monday afternoon in the Royal Oak Community Hall with Mrs. M. Young, Mrs. W. J. Quick and Mrs. F. E. Blake in charge.

Four Generations

This interesting group centres around an old-time resident of Victoria, Mrs. Elizabeth E. Jobson of 1243 Rudlin Street, who will be 80 years on December 27. Mrs. Jobson arrived in this city from England, via New York, in February, 1885. She resided at Cadboro Bay on her arrival, at Wilson Point, now Ten Mile Point. Mrs. Jobson was a Miss Wilson and the point was named after her brother who owned the property. Behind her in the photograph is her son, Mr. Horace Jobson; her grandson, Mr. Wilson F. Jobson, and her granddaughter, Mrs. Herbert Leggett. At her side stands her great-grandson, Master Herbert Leggett, aged nine.

Arrangements were made for a concert to be held in the parish hall in November.

A number of young people of the district enjoyed the modern and old-time dancing class held Monday evening in the Royal Oak Community Hall.

The Women's Guild of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church will hold their annual bazaar in the lecture room of the church, Broughton Street, 3 to 6 p.m., Saturday, November 6. There will be many attractive articles and novelties suitable for Christmas gifts for sale, also home cooking and candy stalls. Afternoon tea will be served.

U.S. Hostesses Jumpy Over Windsors

Duchess Formerly Slighted In Washington

WASHINGTON—Plenty of worrying is going on in the drawing-rooms of this social and political capital—because 15 years ago the anxious ones ignored two women they now wish they hadn't.

One is the Duchess of Windsor and the other is her aunt, Mrs. Buchanan (Aunt Bessie) Merryman.

Fifteen years ago the Duchess was just part of Washington's social fringe. She was invited around, but mostly because her second cousin was the wealthy Mrs. George Barnett.

The Duchess's aunt, Mrs. Merryman, has always lived very quietly. She still keeps a small five-room apartment on a side street.

Now the Duke and Duchess of Windsor are coming to America—to Baltimore, Washington and Virginia, where once the Duchess had some hard social sledding.

Much depends, of course, on whether the British embassy entertains the Windsors. If they are invited there it is understood that depends on London—the social drive will be on in earnest. Other embassies will follow suit, and here and there a hostess with a large enough house and gilt-edged social standing will send out engraved invitations to meet "Their Royal Highnesses, the Duke and Duchess of Windsor." And, of course, there will be the official entertaining by government heads, and parties by members of the Duchess's family.

Her family is led off socially by Mrs. Barnett, who gave the young Wallis Warfield of Baltimore her coming-out party. And it is at her Virginia estate, Wakefield Manor, 40 miles south of Washington, that the Windsors are expected to visit.

The White House is expected to lead off the official entertaining. Mrs. Cordell Hull, wife of the Secretary of State, is expected to follow. Next in line would be Mrs. Sumner Welles, wife of the assistant Secretary of State.

And perhaps the modest, one-time school teacher who is now wife of John L. Lewis, the labor leader, may play hostess to the pair. Her white colonial home, filled with fine antiques, should certainly be adequate setting. The Duke has announced he wants to meet Lewis.

One other question that is keeping Washington hostesses chilly is: Will the Duke, who is coming here to study housing and labor conditions, turn "thumbs down" on all parties?

Society

Miss Phyllis Des Champs was guest of honor at a cup and saucer shower recently at the home of Mrs. W. E. Bond, Quadra Street. The many lovely gifts were presented to the bride-elect in a large mauve and white crepe paper cup and saucer. The tea table was prettily decorated in white and was centred with a miniature bride standing under an arch of roses and Mrs. A. Wallace assisted Mrs. W. E. Bond in serving. The guests were: Mrs. B. Dixon, Mrs. E. Luxton, Mrs. F. Findlay, Mrs. L. E. Bond, Mrs. A. Rogers, Mrs. J. E. Pugh, Mrs. P. Atkinson, Mrs. A. Wallace and Mrs. W. E. Bond, Miss Phyllis Des Champs, Miss Carol Bond and Miss Iona Bond.

Hallowe'en Tea Colorful Party

A successful Hallowe'en guest tea in aid of Victoria City Temple W.A. was held on Wednesday afternoon in the social hall. The hall was appropriately decorated by Mrs. A. L. Oakley, Mrs. N. Goodwin and Mrs. R. E. Snider. The guests were received by Mrs. Snider.

Tea was served from five long tables gay with Hallowe'en colors and lighted tapers and using owls, pumpkins, ghosts, black cats and witches, respectively, as the dominating feature. The following ladies acted as hostesses: The ovals table, Mrs. G. A. A. Hebdon and Mrs. W. Williams; pumpkin table, Mrs. A. L. Oakley and Mrs. Moore; ghost table, Mrs. T. Hammond, Mrs. J. McGuire and Mrs. A. Peters; black cats' table, Mrs. G. Holt, Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. F. Findlay; the witches table, Mrs. N. Phillips and Mrs. S. Brown.

"Witches' Brawl" Set For Tonight

"The Witches' Brawl" is the intriguing title of the Hallowe'en cabaret to be staged at the Empress Hotel this evening under the auspices of the Major John Hebdon Gillespie Chapter I.O.D.E. An attractive programme of music has been arranged and some amusing novelties are promised by the committee in charge of the arrangements. Girls are expected to invite their male escorts, thus reversing the usual convention.

The proceeds of the affair will be devoted to the chapter's philanthropic work.

The stethoscope was invented by the French physician Laennec in 1819.

METROPOLITAN Y.P.S.

Creation of a Department of Trade and Commerce to exploit natural resources on the Isle of Caprie, and consideration of a plan to substitute motor buses in the place of electric street cars, were indicated as government policy in the "speech from the throne" read by "Hon." A. Nixen opening the ninth Metropolitan Young People's Mock Legislature recently.

At the same time the speech promised air raid protection for colonists.

The ancient traditions of parliament were observed. Ivy Bowles was law clerk and George Davis was sergeant-at-arms.

The members of the Ninth Mock Parliament consisted of: Morton Gold, premier; T. Wilson, minister of war; E. Slater, minister of education; M. Hope, minister of transportation; George Enoch, minister of things and stuff; Alice Ruffell, minister of finance; Kay Best, government whip; Dorothy Howard, minister of agriculture, and Bill Bowles, Mary Erskine, Janet Lambie, Dorothy Gill, Gordie Bowker, Jean Craig, Olive Short, Anne Adamson, Jean Boulter, Harvey Mair, Barbara Stark, G. Cairns, Hing Hope, D. G. Ritchie, Tom Beschell and Vina Erskine.

The Gordon Head P.T.A. will hold a Hallowe'en party at the district hall on Saturday from 4 to 8 p.m. Prizes will be given for fancy dress costumes and all pupils and ex-pupils of the school are invited to attend. The association is also sponsoring the showing of moving pictures by the Pacific Milk Company at the same place on Monday evening at 7.45. Pictures of the Coronation and of the climbing of Mt. Everest will be shown, as well as several other features. It is hoped there will be a good attendance.

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel"

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1937

Astrologers see in the horoscope for today conflicting and disturbing planetary aspects with benefic influences strong. It is an auspicious day for clearing up financial matters.

While promise of increased business is given to merchants and manufacturers, there should be bid for future work and not much real initiative exercised today.

Constructive work, mental and physical, now receives the most stimulating direction of the stars. Naval and military officers will speed operations.

Mary is in a place that seems to spur the world toward new and surprising new lines and in unexpected quarters. The United States is to be a peacemaker, with the usual reward, which is entanglement in international conflict.

Women are under favorable sway which encourages social entertainments and pleasant homecomings. College students should benefit. For them the stars predict eventful careers through public service.

Warning is given that there are aspects which seem to indicate plotting and treachery on American soil by silent international conflict.

Persons whose birthdate it is to have the augury of a year of fairly good fortune. For many there may be emotional agitation, religious or sentimental.

Children born on this day probably will be artistic in trend and exceedingly imaginative. Subjects of this sign of Scorpio usually are able to make much of their talents. Richard Brinsley Sheridan, English dramatist, was born on this day, 1751. Others who have celebrated it as a birthday include John Rogers, artist, 1829, and Gertrude Atherton, author, 1857. (Copyright, McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

CALLING ALL DOGS

By ALBERT PAYSON TERHUNE

The Tone, not the Words?

I asked you, some time ago, to tell me why some dogs learn by instinct the meanings of certain words, and yet have to be taught long and tediously the meanings of certain other commands. As an example, my dogs, from puppyhood, usually understand and obey such orders as "Drop it!" and "Go back!" and "Come on!" while it takes some of them long to grasp the meanings of "Lie down!" and "Shake hands!" and "Heel!" etc.

Many of you have answered the question, most of you to the effect that dogs get the meaning of a human's tones, much more easily than of his actual words. A. R. M. of Philadelphia sums it up thus:

"I do not think it is the words the dogs obey, but the tone of voice you use in commanding them. If you should say: 'Go back!' to your dog, and use the tone of 'Come on!' I believe he would come on. I have tried this with my foxterrier."

"I think that when a dog is doing anything and someone talks to him in a harsh tone of voice, the dog feels he is doing something wrong, and will stop doing it; but if you use an encouraging tone he will continue more eagerly what he is doing."

Well? Any more theories or opinions or experiences on this interesting subject?

Mrs. D. B. F. Bullen reported on the recent conference, at which the following resolution was endorsed:

"Whereas level crossings throughout the country constitute a constant menace to traffic, we urgently recommend that steps be taken to eliminate such crossings, and that level crossings be protected by gates, or indicated by lights or signs placed at adequate distances and positions from such crossings in order that sufficient warning be given of their existence."

Letters to the Editor

SHOOTING MENACE IN SAANICH

To the Editor:—I have been requested by much-harassed property owners to make public the following: Some time ago residents on Blenkinsop Road, Cedar Hill Cross Road and Braefoot Estates sent a petition to Saanich municipality asking that shooting be prohibited in these areas. The municipality—so I am informed—passed a by-law prohibiting shooting in a thickly-settled district known as Braefoot Estates. The menace has not ceased to exist.

Here is what has already occurred this season: A resident was working in his garden when a pheasant flew towards him, 14 shots were fired, narrowly missing the resident; the pheasant also escaped the barrage. These vandals are guilty of shooting before sunrise, after dark, on Sundays, from the seats of automobiles, converge in front of the residence of a shell-shocked ex-soldier before daylight and fire a tremendous barrage. The condition of the ex-soldier can be imagined. Should a pheasant accidentally get caught in the barrage and fall in a resident's garden, there is a wild rush to retrieve it; gates are left open, gardens trampled down and a stream of maledictions hurled at the resident should he protest. Naturally sportsmen do not come here, they of course respect private property and would not think of entering a closed area or shoot down the line. It appears to be a lawless bunch of rascals with rifles and shotguns intent on destruction and in particular to annoy ex-soldiers who have purchased property here in the hope of securing peace and quietness.

The Saanich police have extended residents every courtesy, and it is sincerely hoped that they will soon be able to stop the menace. Of course, an odd pheasant may run into a barrage and get accidentally killed, but as these brave would-be hunters are such poor shots, they shoot at residents' cats and dogs, they being easier to hit.

The greatest danger in such a thickly-settled district is to children, who have to be kept out of the woods, even if there are a few trees at the back of a house, a child is no longer safe to venture there. In order not to be unfair, I should mention the following: A man who inadvertently came in this area to shoot, on being informed of the annoyance, immediately apologized and withdrew. This is the only instance of a sportsman being encountered. All others who have been requested to leave have used abusive language, and residents are now going to demand protection from these vandals.

WHY JUBILEE HOSPITAL IS OUT.

To the Editor:—In reply to many inquiries, as to why the Woman's Auxiliary to the Royal Jubilee Hospital has not joined the community chest, we hope the following explanation may be of interest to the public.

The auxiliary is supported by our membership fees, tag day, linen shower and annual hospital ball. The campaign committee asked that we join for the amount collected at our tag day. To do this, we feel that many who are grateful ex-patients, and who are able to give only small amounts would be deprived of this privilege.

Our tag day receipts were $866 in 1936, and $765 in 1937, which is collected with no expense other than the printing of tags and pins.

Added to this we have collected from other sources to the amount of $2,000, all of which has been used for purchasing equipment and comforts for the patients. The work entailed is entirely voluntary, and we feel that we need an incentive to keep up the interest of our members, who have given so willingly of their time. With the sincere hope that the public, who have entrusted us with their contributions in the past, may continue to do so in the future, and with the best wishes for the success of the campaign.

FLORENCE E. JAMESON, President W.A.
MARGARET I. CURRY, Secretary W.A.

HOME RULE OR ROMAN RULE?

To the Editor:—At times I have seen letters from gentlemen who favor Home Rule for Canada. I would like to know what kind of home rule? Probably it is Roman Rule they want. If they wish Roman Rule, Libya, Abyssinia and Eritrea are the places where they would have all the Roman Rule they could ever wish for. They have it coming to them if they wish it as bad as that. But, let me say this—no Roman Rule for me!

Detroit Will Have Great Hockey Machine

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

THE 13th child of a poor negro family may be the next champion of the world. He is Henry Armstrong, a soft-spoken St. Louis lad, who has more nicknames than Joe Lewis ever had. Tonight in New York Armstrong engages in a 15-round world featherweight title bout with Mr. Peter Sarron, the hairy-chested hurricane from Birmingham, Alabama, who controls a majority of sock in the featherweight division.

And that, by the way, is a funny thing about this fight. Here these two boys are fighting for all intents and purposes for the featherweight championship and they're battling in the one place in the world where neither is recognized as the titleholder, New York city. Armstrong is California's world champion and Sarron is accepted in the states which submit to the jurisdiction of the National Boxing Association.

New York, however, recognizes Mike Belloise, as the champ, but it's easy to see that Mike does not even deserve the right to act as usher at tonight's scrap. Armstrong knocked him out in four rounds, and Sarron has whipped the man, Joe Rivers, who beat Belloise. Armstrong's fight with Belloise was not a title affair because both boys were overweight, Mike entering the ring at 130 and Henry at 128.

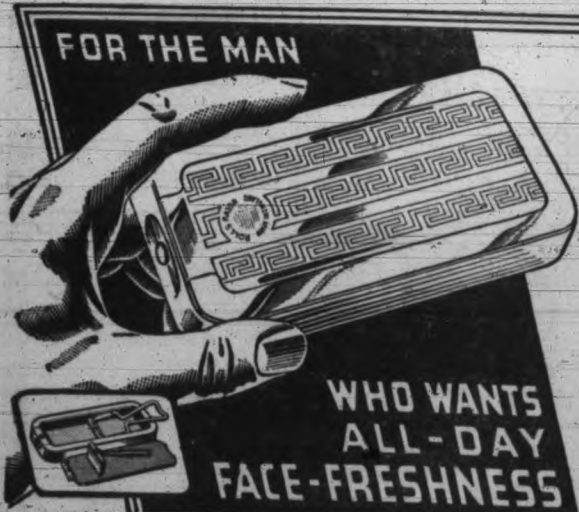

Belloise is just one of the 19 fellows Armstrong has put to sleep so far this year. Armstrong is a scrapper who revels in action. He hits with both paws, a left hook, for instance, finished Belloise. Armstrong is not the perfect fighter. The perfect fighter is one who does not get hit and who does not miss. Henry misses, because he throws so many punches. And he gets hit, because he is willing to take one so that he can get in a punch or two himself.

World Champions Are Reckoned As The Team to Beat

Return of Injured Players Bolsters Red Wings; Have Power and Defence

Adams Confident

DETROIT (AP)—Blessed with one of hockey's acknowledged great defence units and an abundance of first-class forwards, Detroit Red Wings, in the opinion of Manager Jack Adams, and the rest of the league, are "the team to beat" for the National League title and the Stanley Cup, both Detroit property for the last two years.

There is no reason to suppose Wings are not as good as last season, and three reasons why they might be better. They are well Larry Aurie, ace of the first-string line; captain Doug Young and Orville Roulston, all of whom played only a part season because of broken legs.

Either Roulston or Scotty Bowman, another defenceman, and centre Wally Kilrea will drop back to Pittsburgh Hornets of the International American League when the National League opens November 4. Johnny Sherf, native of Calumet, Mich., will replace Kilrea on the third line.

Two other minor changes have been made. Johnny Gallagher and goalie Earl Robertson, who starred in the playoffs, have been sold to New York Americans. Aside from these shifts, the Red Wing management has left well enough alone.

SMITH IN GOAL

Back of the blue line will be Norm Smith in goal. Bucko McDonald and Young will form one defence pair and Eddie Goodfellow and Roulston or Bowman the other. Smith is one of the best net minders in the business and those defencemen can really hit, and attack in their spare time.

In the first-string line lies the Wings' greatest offensive. It is centred by veteran Marty Barry, who makes plays so well that Herbie Lewis on left wing and Larry Aurie on right have their work made much easier.

Two steady-tros back up the aces. Syd Howe, Johnny Sorrell and Pete Kelly will form the second line with Gord Pettigrew, Mud Bruneteau and Sherf as the third stringers. The Ottawa speedster, Herbie Kilrea, will give

Ottawa Grinner Is Exonerated

OTTAWA—Bunny Wadsworth, 260-pound middle of Ottawa Rough Riders, will play her tomorrow against Toronto Argonauts, the club that tried to have him suspended, for the season for rough play.

Wadsworth was exonerated yesterday by Dr. Andy Davies, president of the Big Four, of charges levelled by Argonauts that he deliberately broke Harry Sonshine's jaw in a game in Toronto last Saturday.

GOLF TOURNEY IS ARRANGED

Annual Remembrance Day Competition at Uplands Club on Nov. 11

On Remembrance Day, November 11, the Uplands Golf Club will present a busy scene, on the occasion of the annual overseas tournament. Plans for the competition were announced today by Walter Gravlin, Uplands professional. Play will be 18 holes medal on full handicap.

Entries this year will be confined to 100, and intending competitors can telephone their entries to Gravlin at the club.

Strong committees have been struck to handle the tournament, which promises to be an even greater success than last year.

Capt. Merston is chairman of the general committee with the following members: Bert Chaloner, L. Glazen, W. Gravlin, F. Burns, D. Hurdle, James Cameron, J. McIlraith, B. Hill, C. Mitchell and J. R. Angus. Sub-committees follow: House, Chaloner and Cameron; prizes, Angus and Cameron; entertainment, Burns and Hurdle; publicity, Gravlin; course steward, Mitchell, and secretary, Hill.

FREEMAN TO APPEAR HERE

Big New York Heavyweight to Battle McIntyre on Tomorrow's Card

"Little Herbie" Freeman, the 265-pound wrestler from New York, was booked yesterday to appear in the semi-main go on the Tillicum gym card against the clever and poker-faced Donald McIntyre, Scotland. The signing up of these two completed the heavyweight card for the show.

Freeman, one of the toughest performers to appear in local circles, is not popular with the local followers of the grunting and groaning pastime. However, he is a good showman and generally produces plenty of fireworks. The bout is scheduled for five 10-minute rounds or the best of three falls.

Danny Dusek will make his first appearance before Victoria fans when he grapples with Kimon Kudo, Japanese star, in the special attraction. In his first appearance here the Nippon turned in an excellent performance.

The six 10-minute round main attraction will bring together Abe Youst, Jewish wrestler from New York, and Patrick O'Shocker, rugged Irishman from St. Louis. It will be a return bout following the red-headed Irishman's odd-fall triumph here last week.

The first bout will be at 8.45.

Wilkes Awarded Lacrosse Trophy

NEW WESTMINSTER—Bill Wilkes, high scoring centre on New Westminster Salmonbellies, 1937 Mann Cup holders, yesterday was awarded the R. L. Maitland Cup. The award is made annually by the Inter-city Box Lacrosse League to the player

Will Be At Stake Tonight

When the 13th annual school children's swimming gala is held tonight at the Crystal Garden, under the auspices of the Victoria Amateur Swimming Club, the Sir Edward Beatty Trophy, seen above, will be at stake. The cup is awarded to the school securing the largest number of points. With an entry of over 200 officials are looking forward to be one of the finest galas in history. The first event will start at 8.

Armstrong Rules Fight Favorite

Picked to Whip Sarron Tonight in World Featherweight Title Bout

NEW YORK—Henry Armstrong and Peter Sarron, a couple of battling buzz-saws, pop out of Mike Jacobs' hat (where boxing's new czar carries all his business) and tangle for 15 rounds in Madison Square Garden tonight to settle the featherweight title mess.

The meeting of the irresistible force in Armstrong's knockout wallop and the immovable defence of the Alabama boxer, who has never been felled, marks Jacobs' first venture as boss of the house that Tex Rickard built. It should iron out the complicated situation that has three titleholders at the head of the 126-pound parade.

The National Boxing Association and the states it controls recognize Sarron, the Syrian from Birmingham, as kingpin of the feathers. In California, it's Armstrong, and in other parts, particularly New York, Mike Belloise gets the call. Belloise, however, has voluntarily relinquished his claim, and New York's fistic fathers will nominate tonight's winner as top man.

On his record of 21 knockouts in 22 trips to the post, the California negro goes into the ring as favorite at odds ranging from 3 to 1 to 3 to 2. These figures on Armstrong are quoted despite the somewhat overlooked facts that (1) the "pint-sized Louis" from Los Angeles has had plenty of trouble shaving off six pounds to make the featherweight limit, (2) he has never been called on to travel the 15-round championship route, and (3) Sarron has done all the fighting that has been asked of him, with no signs of weakening.

voted most valuable to his team and for sportsmanship and assistance to junior lacrosse.

Wilkes joined Salmonbellies last year, coming here from Orillia, where he had played on three championship Terrier teams, and led the Royal City team to victory in the recent Mann Cup final against his former teammates, first Canadian lacrosse championship for British Columbia in 10 years.

WESTS PLAY ESQUIMALT

Top and Bottom Teams in First Division Football Clash Tomorrow

VICTORIA—West, top team in the Victoria and District Football League, will take the field at Heywood Avenue Park tomorrow afternoon against the Esquimalt aggregation, at present residing in the cellar berth. T. M. Robb will referee.

The other game billed will bring together Saanich Thistles, in second place with Victoria City, and the Garrison at the Athletic Park. J. C. Dowds will referee.

The Wests are favored to add another couple of points to their total when they oppose the Dockers. Gordy Chalmers, former netminder for Saanich Thistles, has signed with Esquimalt and will be between the posts for tomorrow's game. He should be a strengthening factor to this club which has lost quite a number of regulars.

There is but one point separating the Thistles and Garrison, which indicates a keen struggle at the enclosure.

Teams follow: Esquimalt—Chalmers, Laird, W. Stewart, Joe Watt, Sage, Smith, Holness, Barnswell, J. Stewart, Marsh, Cooper, Trengallis, Young and Holt.

Saanich Thistles—Wensley, McMillan, Leggett, Williams, Wallace, A. Speller, Hope, McCaig, Alexander, Cosier, S. Speller, English, Carmichael and Crowe.

Victoria West—T. Restell, Sweeney, Loranidini, R. Barnes, R. Bell, C. Restell, R. Okell, G. Barnes, G. Bell, Robinson, J. Okell, Stewart, J. Watt, M. Morgan, G. Barnes and J. Patterson.

Esquimalt Meat Market (under 16)—Lister, Stewart, Knowles, Willmott, Smith, Adams, Shubrook, Wyatt, Clemence, Thomas, Tonkin, Douglas, Franklin, Eddison and Mulrook.

Esquimalt Meat Market (under 14)—Molloy, Brown, McDonald, Buxton, McAllister, A. Young, Evans, Creed, Penkins, Knowles, E. Young, Hitchman, A. Jenkins, McLean and Merrick.

HUSKIES TO MEET IDAHO

Washington in Exhibition Grid Clash; Stanford and Oregon State Battle

SAN FRANCISCO—It's expected to be just another breeze for powerful California over U.C.L.A. tomorrow, but Stanford and Oregon State will battle to remain in the running for Pacific Coast Conference football honors.

California's Bears, with an unblemished record and all eyes on a Rose Bowl invitation, were overwhelming favorites over the twice-beaten and once-tied Bruins in their game at Los Angeles.

Stanford, in second place behind California and coming up fast after a single early-season loss to Oregon, will meet Oregon State at Palo Alto on about even terms. The Beavers have lost only to California, a fate which has befallen two other conference teams.

Southern California's Trojans, whose aspirations were jarred soundly by California last Saturday, will face the Washington State Cougars at Pullman in another evenly-matched affair. The Cougar record of one win, a loss and a tie is slightly better than twice-beaten U.S.C.'s.

Washington will face a stubborn Idaho team at Seattle in a non-conference game which was considered no pushover for the Huskies. Idaho lost by a scant 6 to 0 count to St. Mary's last Friday.

Wanderers to Play J.B.A.A. Tomorrow

Rangers Defeat Americans 3 to 1

EDMONTON—More dangerous inside the blue line, New York Rangers outscored New York Americans 3 to 1 here last night in the fourth game of their western Canada exhibition series. Rangers have won twice and lost once. The other game was a tie.

The National Hockey League teams jump from here to Saskatoon, where they will play two games tomorrow.

The scrappy Americans out-fought their Manhattan rivals, but they lacked the finish around the goal and the neat passing plays displayed by Rangers.

Bob Johnstone Passes Away

Well-known Pro at Seattle Golf Club Succumbs to Heart Attack

SEATTLE—Robert Johnstone, 62, professional at the Seattle Golf and Country Club more than 32 years, died here today of a heart attack. He was ill two weeks. The funeral will be held Monday.

President of the Pacific Northwest Golfers' Association more than 10 years, Johnstone was widely known as an instructor. He selected the Seattle Golf and Country Club site and course layout, designed the Jefferson Park municipal links and advised in the construction of the Rainier, Inglewood, Olympia and Glendale courses hereabouts.

His widow, two daughters and two sons survive here. Two brothers live at North Berwick, Scotland.

His first golf professional job in this country was at the Presidio, San Francisco.

Bob Johnstone was well known to Victoria golf followers through his yearly trip to this city for the (Turn to Page 14, Col. 6)

Two Strongest Barnard Cup Rugby Squads Clash For Loop Leadership

Three battles for divisional supremacy are on the bill of fare for local rugby fans tomorrow. The most important Barnard Cup match of the season to date will bring together the leading squads in the league, the Oak Bay Wanderers and the J.B.A.A., on the upper field at Macdonald Park in what promises to be a torrid battle for the top spot in the loop.

Bert Buller's oarsmen—with most of last year's regulars on the line-up, are given the long end of the three to two odds. The rowing clubbers are somewhat lighter than the squad which carried off the championship last year, but what they lack in pack weight they certainly make up in speed.

BAYS FAST

In their smart backfield machine, the Bays have a deadly scoring threat. Shepherd, Smith, Brown, Halkett and Stipe have favorably demonstrated their ability in the ball-carrying line, while Jack "Butch" Ferguson is shaping into one of the best full-backs seen in local rugby circles for some time.

Back in the senior loop for the first time in several years, George Warnock's Oak Bay fifteen includes many intermediates of last season's undefeated Oak Bay squad together with several players of "rep" experience. The Wanderers are also a potential high-scoring bunch judging from their first match of the season with Wharton's Garrison squad when they blanked the latter, 26 to 0.

SENIOR B

On the lower field the Navy and the Canadian Scottish will tangle in a senior B fixture for leadership in that division. The sailors hold a victory over Duncan while the Highlanders have to their credit a whipping over the Work Point Tommies.

Leadership in the intermediate section will be decided at the High School grounds where the (Turn to Page 14, Col. 7)

Armstrong has drawn some great nicknames since he started fighting. He is known from time to time as the Black Blizzard, Black Cyclone, Black Buzz Saw, Black Windmill, Hottide Henry, Black Spider and California Comet. And many more. In fact, if all his names were laid end to end they would reach as far as his flattened opponents would if they were laid end to end.

Henry was reared in miserable poverty. He had a lone $1 after he and his brother Harry hitchhiked from St. Louis to California. And he has worked hard. His bulging shoulder muscles came from driving in railroad spikes along the way to California.

Henry is in good hands. Shrewd, likable, Eddie Meade, manges him and Al Jolson has pulled him over some of the rougher financial spots.

Doctors say that Henry's heart action is slower than the normal man's, which is why when one sees Henry climb into the ring for the start of a fight he's really coming out for the sixth round. You see, he has shadow-boxed five last rounds down in the dressing room to warm up.

His opponents think the doctors are crazy. They can't find anything wrong with Henry's heart.

Not the least reason for the Detroit successes the forwards have always backchecked. With the necessary speed and size this season's ten should have plenty of backchecking power.

If injuries do strike again

Adams can fall back on the Pittsburgh farm which helped him each time a Wing was felled last season. From the Hornet camp came Robertson, Jimmy Orlando, Sherf and Roulston as one Wing after another was injured. There wasn't a replacement who didn't make good.

Adams, starting his 11th season as Red Wing mentor, is sure his is the Stanley Cup team for 1937-38: "We were good enough to win the cup last year. With our crippled back, we're just that much stronger. I think we still have the best team—now we'll go out to prove it."

Delegates of the Saanich, Oak Bay and Victoria councils will meet tomorrow at the City Hall to discuss improvement of Bowker Creek. Alderman Williams, chairman of the executive of the city's public works committee, expressed hopes that some arrangement regarding the grade of the creek and other work which would permit a faster run-off during heavy rains, would be reached.

Directors of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday referred to a special committee for report a resolution from the Pressmen's Union seeking the printing of textbooks for provincial schools in British Columbia. At its meeting Wednesday the committee also considered removal of alternate trees on Michigan Street as well as cutting the roots of certain elms in Pioneer Square. A recommendation will also be sent forward seeking the employment on the regular staff of Arthur Ridland and Horace Lindsey, apprentices who are completing their probation period.

Revenue Influx Is Anticipated

Considerable revenue is expected during the next few days by George Okell, city assessor, collector, as plans are being made for the annual city tax sale on Monday.

Between 500 and 600 parcels of property are listed at present. Mr. Okell stated, but any on which 1935 levies are met will be taken out before the opening of the sale. The actual sale is expected to be approximately the same size as that of last year.

More revenue is also expected from current taxes, as another penalty of 1 per cent will be applied on accounts outstanding on Tuesday. A third 1 per cent will be added on November 16, and the final 3 per cent will be made on December 3.

N. Lambert To Come to Coast

Police Prepare For Hallowe'en

Reasonable Fun Will Be Allowed But Not Property Damage, Says Chief

Police have no desire to restrict children's fun too much on Hallowe'en but damaging property or other wilful acts will not be tolerated and will result in prosecution, Police Chief Thomas Heatley warned this morning.

"The city has arranged for organized bonfires which the children may attend and we are prepared to allow every latitude within reason so their fun will not be spoiled," the chief said. "One practice which he warned against, however, was that of lowering air lights. 'While this is a dangerous practice in itself, these lights contain high voltage and will seriously injure those who touch them,' he said.

The chief has arranged extra patrols for tomorrow night. A number of additional cars will be utilized for the evening.

Court Hearing Esquimalt Case

Municipal Politics Introduced Into Hodgson Vs. Elrick Action

The case for the plaintiff in the civil action of T. H. Hodgson vs. James Elrick, in which the former seeks recovery of $154.17 which he claims is the residue of a debt owed him by the defendant, was completed in County Court before Judge H. H. Shandley this morning.

Esquimalt municipal politics became involved in the hearing as F. C. Elliott, counsel for the defendant, attempted to establish that plaintiff had given Mr. Elrick $200 in cash in the Coach and Horses to meet Mr. Elrick's back taxes in order to allow Mr. Elrick to campaign against Reeve Alex Lockley.

Mr. Hodgson stated the sum had been merely a personal loan. At a later date he had issued a cheque to Mr. Elrick for $400 to meet premiums on fire insurance on his premises. The cheque, he alleged, had been marked for "payment in full."

Evidence revealed certain premiums up to $400 had been met, but that other policies not covered by that amount had been canceled.

In cross-examination, Mr. Hodgson denied he had said he would spend his last dollar to put Reeve Lockley out of public office.

Mr. Elliott asked Mr. Hodgson why he had not received an acknowledgment from Mr. Elrick when he had allegedly loaned him $200.

"That's where I let myself down," Mr. Hodgson replied. "Isn't it a fact that you were trying to persuade Mr. Elrick to credit you with his earned commission because you had advanced him $200 and he had not been elected?" Mr. Elliott asked.

"No," Mr. Hodgson replied. Mr. Elliott questioned the time at which the words "in full" had been appended to the cheque which Mr. Hodgson gave to Mr. Elrick for payment of insurance premiums.

Mr. Hodgson stated it had been written during a discussion of his premiums with Mr. Elrick and that Mr. Elrick had been informed of its presence on the cheque when he accepted it.

F. L. Shaw is appearing for the plaintiff. The case is continuing this afternoon.

MORTGAGE ACT IS EXPLAINED

Roy Manzer Speaks at Luncheon of Real Estate Board

A mortgagee could not sue a debtor for nonpayment of interest without leave, Roy Manzer told a luncheon meeting of the Real Estate Board in Spencer's dining-room this afternoon.

The last amendment to the Mortgage and Purchasers Relief Act had put interest in the same class as principal as far as legal action was concerned, Mr. Manzer said.

The 1935 amendment also redefined non-payment of taxes as grounds for action. It was now no longer possible to take foreclosure until taxes had been in arrears for more than a year.

Mr. Manzer felt that the new act brought down in 1934 was of benefit to mortgagees in that it eliminated compassion from judgments.

In the case of an action the judge had the power to appoint a receiver for the property, which in most cases, was the owner or mortgagee. Then the debtor could be charged a rent for occupation. In the case of default of payment of rent, the creditor could go ahead with foreclosure action.

James Forman felt that the Real Estate Board should join with a committee set up by the Chamber of Commerce to prepare a brief on the question of taxation.

Frank Burton, president, was in the chair. It was announced that F. B. Pemberton would speak at the next meeting.

ESQUIMALT Y.P.S.

The Esquimalt chapter of the Catholic Youth Organization met Tuesday evening. Plans were made to aid the Catholic Women's League in the forthcoming bazaar in the church hall on November 4 by disposing of a jar of candy and to furnish an ice cream stall and fish pond.

Arrangements were also made for the communion breakfast on Sunday morning. The speaker will be Dr. Mooney. An interesting talk was given by Len Pearce on "Restraining Tyranny." A dance will be held in the church hall on Monday, November 8.

Caravan Work Is Described

Miss Eva Hasell Addresses Big Audience at Memorial Hall

The Sunday-school caravan of the Anglican Church was graphically described to an audience of about 300 in the Memorial Hall last night by Miss Eva Hasell, founder and head of the mission. With the assistance of Miss Iris Sayle, her co-worker, Miss Hasell showed a series of fine slides illustrating the work.

Started by Miss Hasell in 1920, when she provided the first caravan, and was the sole worker, the field now extends from Manitoba to British Columbia, from the International Boundary to the north, and is covered by 20 vans with 40 workers. Miss Hasell described the manner in which she traveled through seven dioceses and worked in four; how church was held and Bible teaching was given in public schools; how many children had been baptized, and others prepared for confirmation, and the manner in which at least two lame children and one neglected child had been assisted through these traveling missions.

Bishop H. E. Sexton was in the chair. The sum of $92, which was collected, will be used to defray the cost of mailing School by Post material to various points in the Diocese of Columbia.

Says Canada Land For Young People

"Canada is a beautiful country, but I think it is a country for young people," said Mrs. P. M. Langford of Reading, England, at the Empress this morning.

Mrs. Langford has been in Victoria for nearly two weeks of enforced delay because of the breakdown of her plans for going to the Orient.

Her son is an officer on a destroyer stationed at Hongkong. She left England for Canada on her way to visit him, then found that the rooms she had reserved in Hongkong had been taken over for refugees and that all the hotels in the city were crowded.

She is considering going down to California and having her son's wife and young baby join her there. This is her first visit to Canada and she is delighted with what she has seen. But she finds the climate in Victoria at this time of year very enervating.

REFINEMENTS IN PLYMOUTH'S

New Cars Feature Quietness, Easier Operation and Bolder Style

A new Plymouth of bolder design, with easier steering, safer vision and a score of new luxury features for the lowest price field, is presented as the 1938 model, marking Plymouth's 10th anniversary.

Even further advances in sound-proofing, roomy interiors with ample stretching room for six passengers and all-steel bodies of safety design are features of the new model.

Overall length of all models is 194 inches, from bumper to bumper. The complete Plymouth line for 1938 includes the Plymouth custom six, Plymouth deluxe six and Plymouth six, all on 112-inch wheelbase with a head engine of 82 horsepower.

Stylists have given the 1938 car an entirely different look of massive size and strength. A sleek new hood sweeps farther forward to meet the redesigned radiator grille, which rises much more vertically than the sloping "face" of last year's car.

Grille design remains classically simple, with vertical chrome bars on both sides of a centre strip in body color. At the base, the grille rounds off higher than before, to tie in with the new apron that extends across the front.

The Plymouth sailing ship in the radiator ornament becomes a full four-master, with belling sails in convex chrome to catch the highlights and accent its forward motion.

Plymouth introduces a new hood design with side fixed panels and only the top sections swinging open for routine service, water and oil.

The side panels can be removed quickly for special service, but when in place make the whole front assembly a much more rigid unit.

This year's Plymouth has a new windshield for the sake of better vision, with more effective glass area, wider in the vertical plane. As a result, it is easier to see traffic lights as well as closer down in front of the car.

Numerous conveniences add comfort and luxury. Wider defrosting or anti-fog vents are built into the base of windshields, in front of both driver and passenger.

A new front seat mechanism automatically adjusts the eye-level of drivers of any height.

Useful space in all luggage compartments and built-in trunks has been greatly increased by removing the spare tire and wheel from the floor, and mounting it back up out of the way.

BETTER CONTROL

Also, a new pistol-grip hand-brake control, mounted underneath the cowl, at the centre, makes its first appearance on Plymouth this year.

A special improvement for night driving is the bigger headlamps, which mean much better light on the road ahead. This is attained through bigger reflectors and a more powerful generator, with a peak charge rate as high as 30 amperes.

The new car also retains the famous features of Plymouth's luxurious, big-car ride, with balanced springs of thin-leaf Amola steel, controlled by two-way shock absorbers like the ones on big sleeper planes.

Flat rear floors again this year result from Plymouth's new hypoid rear axle—another outstanding success carried over from last year's car. Hypoid design uses longer and stronger gear teeth, and permits a lower propeller shaft.

ENGINE REFINED

The rugged character of Plymouth's famous six-cylinder, L-head engine also is carried over in the new car with some refinements. A stronger fuel pump has higher capacity, and drives the fuel up to the carburetor under increased pressure. The whole chassis is better sealed to keep oil in and keep dirt out, with fewer places to lubricate.

Rickard Heads History Group

President of Victoria Section Gives Paper on Early Gold Discoveries

Dr. T. A. Rickard was re-elected president of the Victoria section of the British Columbia Historical Association at its annual meeting in the Provincial Library yesterday evening.

John Goldie was returned as vice-president and Mrs. M. R. Cree, who has long served the association, was re-appointed honorary secretary. Miss Madge Wolfenden was named honorary treasurer.

The council was elected as follows: Dr. J. S. Plaskett (ex-officio), Dr. Kaye Lamb, E. W. McMullen, C. S. McTavish, J. B. Munro, Major H. Nation, T. S. Parsons, Mrs. Curtis Sampson and Major George Sisman.

Dr. Rickard presented an interesting paper on the "Early Gold Discoveries in British Columbia."

DR. T. A. RICKARD

In it he traced the work of the native Indians in first finding and exploiting the precious metal and linked the subsequent development of mining in the province to the gold discoveries in California.

FIRST DISCOVERY

The first gold discovery ever recorded in British Columbia was by David Douglas in Lake Okanagan. Due to the fact Douglas died shortly afterwards, news of this find never reached England.

In 1850 Indians brought gold from Queen Charlotte Islands to Richard Blanshard. However the mining on the northern islands proved relatively poor.

In 1852 an Indian while taking a drink saw gold in the water of the Thompson River. Except for the natives, gold was hardly exploited in the province till 1858 when word of rich finds on the Columbia and Fraser began to trickle out.

Vancouver Island at that time had 450 white people and the mainland probably less than 300. But within a year 35 vessels had left San Francisco for the new Eldorado of British Columbia. Sailors and soldiers deserted and industries were paralyzed as a mad stampede which saw 30,000 men pour into the province began.

Sir James Douglas decreed the regalian rights to gold throughout the province for which he was criticized, though Dr. Rickard felt he had done rightly. Licenses were collected from the miners and many others who took part in the rush.

Dr. Rickard traced the development of mining along the coast to the richer Cariboo deposits which saw as much as $4,000,000 worth of yellow metal taken out in 1863.

ANNUAL REPORTS
In her secretary's report, Mrs. Cree noted that this was the 15th anniversary of the founding of the historical association in Victoria. From 40 members the association had grown to a province-wide organization with over 400 members.

The retiring treasurer, George S. McTavish, reported a satisfactory bank balance. He said that there were 151 members in the Victoria section and nine life members.

Major Nation in presenting the report of the mining committee said that since records had been kept $1,550,000,000 worth of minerals had been mined in the province.

Mrs. George Phillips presented the report of the necrology committee, C. F. Pemberton the re-

LANGFORD

At St. Matthew's Church, Langford, Monday evening, Rev. G. R. V. Bolster of St. John's Church, Victoria, installed officers. Seven new members to the Anglican Young People's Association of the Langford and Colwood branch were initiated. The following officers were installed: President, Kenneth B. Hincks; vice-president, Howard Smedley; secretary, Ethel Brown; treasurer, Mildred Peatt. The initiated members were Marjorie Olsdorf, Yvonne St. James, William Alsdorf, John Able, Hereward Norman and Stanley Maughan.

ROTARY SEES MAGIC SHOW

William Harkness, Victoria magician, baffled members of the Rotary Club when he put on a sleight-of-hand performance at the club's weekly luncheon in the Empress Hotel yesterday.

Not content with the usual card and cigarette tricks, Mr. Harkness "challenged science" by lacing an orange with silk cords, then tearing it off and showing an undamaged fruit.

He showed how to "pass a solid through a solid" when he stuck a glass rod through a glass window. The magician borrowed a handkerchief from a member of the audience, and to his horror and astonishment proceeded to cut it up. However, he handed it back whole.

Mr. Harkness also showed his well-known rope trick, which he called the eighth wonder of the world.

Herbert Pendray introduced the magician, Captain T. J. Goodlake, president, was in the chair. Morris Green urged all members of the Rotary Club to contribute to the Community Chest. Frank Doherty announced that the superfluity sale would be held next Wednesday afternoon in Horace Plimley's garage on Yates Street.

SCARING THE A.F. OF L.—Boo! who's scared? Well, anyone might be, at this brand-new twist-on the age-old jack-o'-lantern. A pumpkin, a little carving, a carrot for the nose, accorns for eyes a sweep of black cardboard and you have John L. Lewis, head of the C.I.O., in a most typical pose.

LEADING WITH HIS CHIN.—Ah, here's a familiar, engaging grin. Two string beans made up the eyebrows, a pared carrot the nose and a considerable clever carving the mouth. It took a baby pumpkin for that chin and twisted wire for the glasses, but it's President F.D. Roosevelt to a T.

GIVING 'EM THE EYE.—A pumpkin just the right shape for this one, a green pepper for a famous mustache, another—just longer—carrot for the nose and beet leaves for the drooping cowl. It would be Hitler, even without the fanciful swastika for the left eye.

THE DUKE IN EXILE.—Duke Edward of Windsor looks a little sad, but perhaps those onions for eyes would make anybody tearful. The same carrot nose, with beans for expression under the eyes, completes the features of the famous ex-King who soon will visit the United States.

Rum Prices Cut
In New List

A new price list in government liquor stores will go into effect November 1, the Liquor Control Board announced today.

The only major change is in the price of rum. A reduction in tariffs granted by the customs department will be passed on to the public and will amount to a cut of 25 cents on 25-ounce bottles of brands put up by the board and 10 and 15 cents on proprietary brands.

The price of British Columbia beer and ale in Fraser Valley towns has been reduced to the same as in Victoria and Vancouver, the breweries having agreed to absorb freight charges.

The reduction amounts to 10 cents on a dozen pints in some towns and five cents in others.

Trans-Canada is the Telephone System which makes it possible for you to talk to any part of the Dominion where telephone service exists.

THERE are seven major telephone systems in Canada and many smaller ones. Long distance calls utilize the lines of these Systems, co-operating to render a swift and reliable Trans-Canada telephone service spanning the continent.

If this were not so, long delays and poor connections would result. Thus, Trans-Canada Telephone plays a vital part in supplying every telephone subscriber with a nation-wide service.

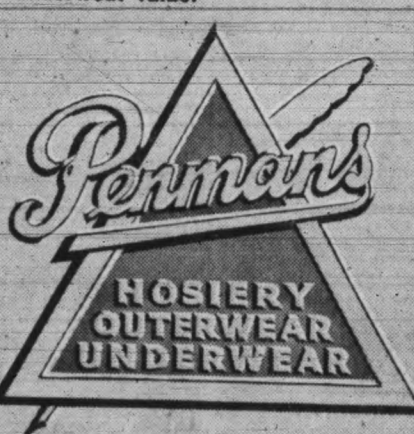

And Trans-Canada rates are lower than ever as the adjoining rate table shows—lower still after 7 p.m. and all day Sunday.

Deepening Of Harbor Sought

Deepening of the Inner Harbor to prevent the possibility of big ships discontinuing calling here will be sought by the directors of the Chamber of Commerce on the advice of a special committee which has recommended this action.

Capt. R. W. McMurray, chairman of the directors' port committee, reported for the committee, pointing out that Victoria harbor in some places was only 22 feet deep. His committee, after due consideration, was suggesting that it be deepened in these places to 35 feet, the same depth as at the dock.

The present situation, he pointed out, might lead to a decision to have larger ships discontinue their calls here because of the shallowness of the harbor.

Other recommendations of the committee were that action be taken to remove squatters in the harbor and that lumbering executives be requested to see what steps could be taken in regard to the mooring of log booms in the Inner Harbor.

Both these recommendations were tabled pending further investigation upon return of the president, Harold Husband.

Labor Conclave
Here Tomorrow

To launch a move which they hope will result in the legislative support of a Trades Union Bill, which, among other things, will recognize the right of labor to organize, delegates from all parts of the island and several points on the mainland will come to Victoria tonight and tomorrow for a labor convention.

The convention will open tomorrow morning in the Foresters' Hall, but preliminary sessions will be held tonight in the Labor Hall.

It is anticipated nearly 100 delegates will attend the sessions, representing all branches of organized labor in the province.

They will sit for two days, concluding on Sunday morning. Many resolutions have been received by the resolutions committee, including one which will start the debate on whether the delegates favor re-establishing the British Columbia Federation of Labor which was dissolved in 1921.

"I'm a taxi driver and in the taxi business a car has to stand up under all weathers, and on all roads. Taxi gets tough usage—but Dodge can take it. I've been driving Dodge standard Sedans in taxi work for three years. My passengers remark on the comfort of Dodge—and so far as driving it is concerned, Dodge handles nicely, even in heaviest traffic."

J. M. DUGGAN
"In over 30 years of driving, in which time I sat at the wheels of cars of a dozen different makes, I have never driven one I like as well as my 1937 Dodge Sedan. I've saved money when I switched to Dodge—20 to 30 miles to the gallon of gas is about my average, depending on speed and trips."

W. H. CONN
"Down Nova Scotia way, motorists compare cars on their ability to take the hills. When a car handles the hills, they say it's a 'good lugger.' I'm driving a Dodge now after driving other makes, and I want to say my 1936 Dodge is the best 'lugger.' I've ever seen."

A. G. WARDEN
"I have ridden in and driven cars costing as much as Dodge, but I can't see after driving Dodge Custom Sedan 1937 model since last February, where they do any better. Dodge certainly excels other cars in its price class... is the most car for the money... is economical... comfortable..."

GEO. L. COLLINS
"My 1937 Dodge is the second Dodge I have had, giving them, approximately 31,000 miles a year. I find Dodge economical, dependable, comfortable, particularly on long road trips. I average 22 miles to the gallon, over the course of a year's driving, including high speeds, city calls and all kinds of roads. I am more satisfied with Dodge..."

Dangers Seen By Lloyd George

British Commons Told Europe Menaced By Spain Nonintervention Failure

LONDON (CP)—Wartime Prime Minister David Lloyd George and retired Admiral Sir Roger Keyes fought a mythical naval battle of the fortress of Gibraltar Thursday as they clashed in the House of Commons.

Mr. Lloyd George asserted "German guns" now dominate the strait and the admiral answered: "Nothing can stop the British navy," adding: "Neither Italy nor Germany" was in a position to close the strait.

Sir Roger said "smoke screens" could mask any guns that threatened Gibraltar and allow British shipping through the strait. "That satisfies me," Mr. Lloyd George snapped back. "I ask the supporters of the government if that is their idea of our position in a great war—dependent on smoke screens."

LIKENED TO DICTATOR

Mr. Lloyd George was compelled to leave the House after his speech due to a cold. Later in the sitting Rt. Hon. Walter Elliott, Secretary for Scotland, described him as "the nearest thing to a dictator we have produced in this country since the days of Oliver Cromwell."

Mr. Lloyd George called Spain "one of the most dangerous bastions" for the British or French empires. Sea routes of both Britain and France were "practically in the hands of Mussolini and Germany" in the Mediterranean, he asserted.

He declared Mussolini wanted "peace in Europe—until he and his fellow dictator are ready," and affirmed Mussolini "makes a great pretence he is fighting the reds... but above all he wants domination in the Mediterranean and north Africa and reconstruction of an empire."

"BOASTED FAILURE"

Nonintervention in Spain and the 27-nation nonintervention committee were condemned by the white-haired Welsh statesman.

Nonintervention was "a boasted failure" and the "greatest, basest fraud and deception ever perpetrated by great nations on a weak people." It operated to favor the insurgents, he said. If all volunteers in Spain were withdrawn tomorrow, nonintervention which had prevented aid from reaching the Spanish government would have accorded superiority to the insurgents which might make the difference between victory and defeat, Mr. Lloyd George said.

He predicted a decisive battle was probably approaching in Spain and said it "may decide the fate of Europe; it may decide the issue whether Europe is going to be controlled by democracy or dictatorships."

"If democracy is beaten in this battle," he said, "or, if Fascism is triumphant in this battle His Majesty's government can claim that victory for themselves."

AT DISADVANTAGE

"If the objects of nonintervention were to place Great Britain and France at a great disadvantage in any future war that may take place, the committee has been a triumph.

"Heidi" Lives on Screen

"And we are going to prolong the life of the committee that makes this possible," he shouted. Mussolini's ambitions went beyond a desire to assure an insurgent victory in Spain, Mr. Lloyd George said.

RIGHTS MUST BE PRESERVED

Ward Three Liberal Association last night named 53 delegates to a party nominating convention for the Federal by-election, heard from C. J. McDowell that the Liberals have a particularly good chance to win the poll, and listen to a spirited talk by Herbert W. Davey on the preservation of constitutional rights.

The date of the nominating convention, it was announced, will be set tomorrow by the central executive.

Mr. Davey said all citizens must face the danger of encroachment on their personal liberties and rights. These were maintained solely by public opinion, and must be defended from attacks within as well as without.

They were the right of personal freedom, the right of property, freedom of speech and discussion, which covered freedom of the press, the right of public meeting, the rights of associations and the right of court trial.

In this connection Mr. Davey mentioned the freedom allowed Liberal members of the Legislature to express their opinions unhampered by party ties.

Conservatives Are Optimistic

Alex Monteith, presiding at a Ward One Conservative Association meeting last night, said Victoria had always been a strong Conservative seat in the Federal House, and he saw no reason why the party's candidate should not be successful at the forthcoming by-election.

Thirty-one delegates to the party's nominating convention were selected and he urged upon them to consider the strongest man available for the honor.

The meeting passed a standing silent vote of tribute to the late Hon. S. F. Tolmie and ordered a letter of condolence sent to the family.

To Relieve Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness And Head Noises

Persons suffering from Catarrh of the nose, or who are growing hard of hearing and have head noises, can know that this distressing affliction can usually be successfully treated at home by an internal medicine that in many instances has effected complete relief after other treatments have failed. Sufferers who could scarcely hear have had their hearing restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven or eight inches away from either ear. Therefore, if you know someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrhal deafness, send them this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. The prescription can be prepared at home and is made as follows:

Secure from your druggist one ounce of Parmit (double strength). Take this home and add to it 1/4 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

Parmit is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action the inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but to correct any excess of secretions in the middle ear, and the results it gives are nearly always quick and effective.

Every person who has catarrh to any form, or distressing, rumbling, hissing sounds in their ears, should give this recipe a trial.

Jack Benny On Atlas Screen

"Artists and Models" Production Forced Comedians to Laugh

Reasons for spoiled "takes" in Hollywood's film studios are as numerous as the proverbial sands of the desert.

A new one was added to the list during the filming of "Artists and Models," which is now at the Atlas Theatre, with a cast headed by Jack Benny, Ida Lupino, Gail Patrick, Richard Arlen, Louis Armstrong's Swing Orchestra and Andre Kostelanetz's Orchestra. The reason for delays that stretched one little scene into an all-day job was that Ben Blue and Judy Canova—that daffy new-comer from radio, also featured in the film—laughed so hard at each other's comedy that they spoiled "take" after "take."

And Director Raoul Walsh couldn't treat them too severely because he was laughing too hard himself!

Shirley Temple Cast In "Heidi"

Johanna Spyri's Enchanting Tale Screened at Dominion Theatre

A Shirley Temple more glorious than anyone has ever known and a beloved story that has enthralled millions the world over arrived today on the screen of the Dominion Theatre in the never-to-be-forgotten picture, "Heidi," Johanna Spyri's enchanting tale brought to such laughing, loving life by Twentieth Century-Fox that it touches the deepest corners of the heart.

Everywhere readers in all languages have been charmed by the warmth, tenderness and beauty of the Swiss Alps and all the colorful folk dwelling up just under the stars, into whose lives "Heidi" brings tenderness and mirth and courage.

"Heidi," one of the world's famous stories, had to wait for its star before it could be brought to the screen, declares Darryl F. Zanuck, and the reason is evident. Shirley was cast in the title role in response to the thousands of movie fans who besieged the studio with requests that she play the part.

The result is a picture for which she will be remembered always. Ideally cast and gloriously portrayed, the screen play by Walter Ferris and Julien Josephson is an achievement in transcribing a familiar and beloved story to the screen.

Benny Baker, one of Paramount's featured comedians, once chased a job as persistently as he chases Lynne Overman in Paramount's mad matrimonial mix-up, "Hotel Haywire," which is now at the Oak Bay Theatre. That was when he was tired of factory drudgery and wanted a job as candy butcher in a burlesque theatre. The job proved a stepping stone to stage fame. His role as the bungling detective in the new laugh sensation will, according to Director George Archainbaud, prove a stepping stone to stardom.

Schooner Trade Wind Preparing to Leave Sound for Pacific Station

SEATTLE — R. O. Bullwinkel, former steamship company executive who took to the air, and now is district traffic manager for Pan-American Airways Inc., announces that the sailing schooner Trade Wind, formerly the Margaret Sterling, undergoing reconstruction at the plant of the Lake Union Drydock and Machine Works, will be given a trial voyage early in November.

"When the steamship North Wind of the Northland Transportation Company, now under charter to Pan-American Airways, returns from her present supply trip to Pacific airplane stations, the Trade Wind will be ready for assignment to this service," Bullwinkel said.

"This means that hereafter the principal floating aid in the maintenance of the trans-Pacific airway will revert to an assignment to sailing. In preparing the Margaret Sterling for her new and unusual service as an air tender for Pan-American Airways' operations in the Pacific, the vessel has been fitted with a new set of sails and will carry 18,000 square feet of canvas on her 106-foot masts. The ship has been painted white with green Plimsoll marking.

Auxiliary Diesel power to operate twin-screws for use in "kicking" the schooner safely through reefs of the smaller island stations, which she will visit, has been installed, as well as modern and commodious accommodations for radio, airway and other flight personnel.

Fined For Not Having License

NANAIMO (CP) — Four Jugoslav fishermen, belonging to the fleet of seiners fishing chum salmon in the Gulf of Georgia, were fined by Stipendiary Magistrate C. H. Beevor-Potts in police court Wednesday. They were charged with not having the necessary license for such fishing operations.

One man was fined $10 and costs and two were each assessed $5 and costs. The fourth was found to be impersonating another fisherman and was fined $25 and costs.

Youth Is Lured Away From Sea

Bluenose Skipper Classes New Generation as "Bunch of Softies"

HALIFAX (CP) — Bluenose sailormen, descendants of those iron men who sailed wooden ships 50 years ago, are a thing of the past, in the opinion of Capt. Angus Walters, skipper of the Bluenose, famous Lunenburg banker.

"The pleasure-loving generation of today are a bunch of softies," commented the man who took command of the Bluenose when launched in 1921, and has helped her keep her title of Queen of the North Atlantic fishing fleet ever since.

The future of the fishing industry in Nova Scotia was threatened by the advent of young men willing to dare the hardships and dangers of bank fishing, the Bluenose skipper declared in an interview here. He did not know if this shortage was caused by prospect of poor returns from fishing or whether it was "just the effects of this pleasure-seeking age." Automobiles, radios, dance music and other distractions had lured the young men away from the sea, he said, adding the time was not far distant when even Lunenburg's famous fleet would put out to sea manned by "alien" crews.

Capt. Walters paid tribute to the courage and ruggedness of the Newfoundlanders in the present fishing crews, but longed for the days when he could "put to sea with sons of the bluenoses of the past as members of my crew." The veteran skipper recalled the days when the Lunenburg fleet numbered "more than 60 sail," and said that number had been decreased to about 30 in the last few years. He predicted the number would continue to decrease.

This week-end... an invitation for you to inspect

The Best Insulated House in British Columbia!

House Now Under Construction at the Corner of BEACH DRIVE AND FALKLAND ROAD

Thousands of people in Victoria are interested in better home construction and to everyone we issue this invitation. Come this week-end... attend a preview of a house that is unique in British Columbia. It is insulated INSIDE and OUT with "Fibrock," a new material that is absolutely fire-proof; has great tensile strength and at the same time is the last word in insulating qualities and forms the perfect base for stucco or plaster. The more experience you have had in the selection of building materials, the more you will be impressed with "Fibrock" construction. If you are interested in modern home construction it is essential that you visit this house this week-end, for during the coming week the "Fibrock" base will be covered with outside stucco and inside plaster.

Another Feature of Note Is That This

DUROID

is roofed with the new Duroid Heavy Slab Shingles good for 40 years. The house in its entirety is of British Columbia materials and is a perfect example of how a modern house should be built for strength and comfort.
